One Last Look at Friendships Made

All our lives friends will come and friends will go but the one thing in life that is sure to last will be our memories of the friends we made during our short stay at Co-Lin and that is why we on the Trillium staff are proud to present this year's annual. We hope it will bring back memories of friends gone by.

Co-Lin prepares to open ADN program

Copiah-Lincoln Community College's Wesson Campus, is preparing for the new associate degree nursing (ADN) program. Pictured are the people attending the ground breaking. Susan D. Hart has been named as director of nursing. The ADN program plans to begin its first class in fall of 1994.

Hart, a graduate of Co-Lin, says, "It is exciting to be on the ground floor of building a new nursing program for our community." "We are already experiencing tremendous interest in the program both from potential students as well as from area health care facilities," she added.

"Well over 500 inquiries have already been made," states Mrs. Susan D. Hart, director of the program.

"Fifty students will be accepted for the first class next fall. Several prerequisites will need to be completed before the application deadline of April 15, 1994," she said.

Regular Co-Lin admissions requirements must be met, including receipt of a transcript from an accredited high school or statement of satisfactory scores on the General Education Development (GED) Test and receipt of transcript of previous college work: and application form completed: documented evidence of immunization for measles and rubella of all students born after 1957; scores on the American College Test; and a $35 room deposit if student is to live on campus.

Special admissions criteria for the ADN program includes a composite GPA of 2.5 or higher on all previous college work; composite score on ACT of 18 or higher. College graduates and allied health graduates will be considered.

Kami Burns wins most beautiful

On October 12, 1993, the Trillium Staff held the annual Trillium Beauty Pageant and of the twenty-five contestants, Kami Burns of Loyd Star was selected most beautiful on the Copiah-Lincoln Community College's Wesson campus. The "Evening of Elegance" was emceed by Burlian Walker, Trillium advisor and co-director of the pageant, along with Miss Amy Pouncey, child care instructor on campus. Student directors of the pageant were Trillium executive editors Amanda Fortenberry of Crystal Springs, Heather Nevill of Natchez, and Josie Sanders of McCall Creek. Trillium Staff members assisted also in making the evening a success. "The whole evening was successful and `An Evening of Elegance' was enjoyed by all", said Walker.

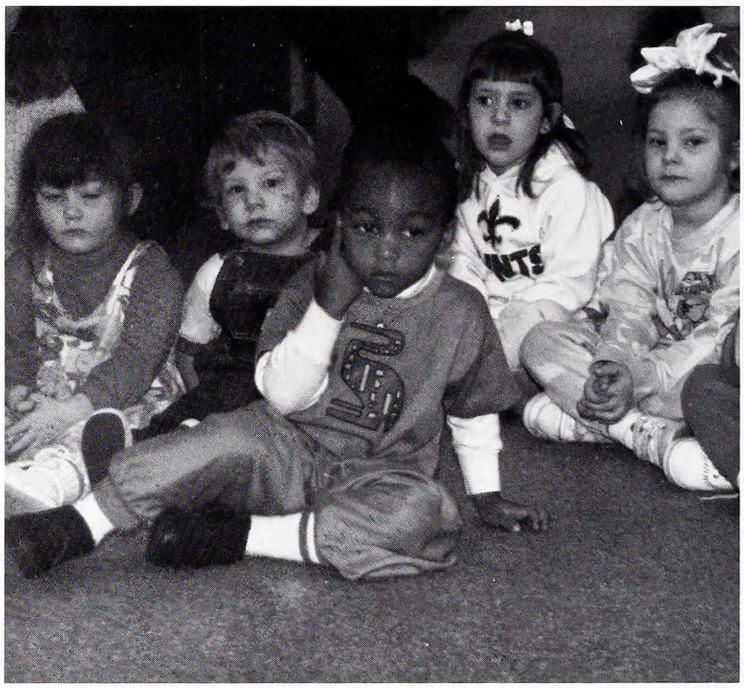
The child care program grows and grows

The child care program began 15 years ago with one lab and about six years ago expanded to include an infant and a toddler center to increase the number of children they could care for. Co-Lin students have first priority in placing the children in the center.

The program is designed to the curriculum needs of the students in the child care technology program. In the lab the students actually work with the children.

Several students had this to say about the program: "The reason I'm in this field is because I like working with the children and after graduating in May I plan to work with my sisters who graduated two years ago through this same program," said Staci Schilling. "The reason I am in child care is that I really enjoy working with small children because I have a small child of my own that I love to death and that's why I love this program," said Allyson Rushing.

Leslie Perkins said, "The reason why I am in this field is because I love working with small children and this has been a long term dream of mine since the third grade and I have finally accomplished it." "The reason I chose this major is because I like to work with children. I like to see their little eyes light up when they learn something new or observe something unfamiliar. I also like to help them in caring for them by giving them a hug when they are feeling sad and just want to feel loved," said Kemberly Johnson.



The program started out with 42 students and about 30 children. The caregivers and students do many special things with the children such as going on field trips and celebrating holidays. The program is a rewarding learning experience not only for the students, but also the children in the program.

Dr. Billy Thames leads college in new directions

Distinguished former Co-Lin graduate Dr. Billy B. Thames has for the past twenty-six years led Co-Lin as President through numerous changes and advancements.

The most recent expansions to Co-Lin have been the nature trail, golf course, ADN program and building, as well as new lights for the football field and baseball field, additional security lights, and the overhead bridge.

He and his wife, the former Anne Allen, are the parents of three children. They are Mrs. Rachel Peeples, and instructor at Mississippi College; Rebecca Thames, an attorney at Kitchens Law firm in Jackson; and William Thames, and engineer with a Jackson architectural firm.

"As I take one last look over the school year, 1993-94, I see things will never be the same again. For example, the construction of the ADN building and the hulling out of the nature trail. Also improvements to campus beautification, along with the adding of lights to the baseball and tennis areas," he said.

Student Life: friends and friendly people

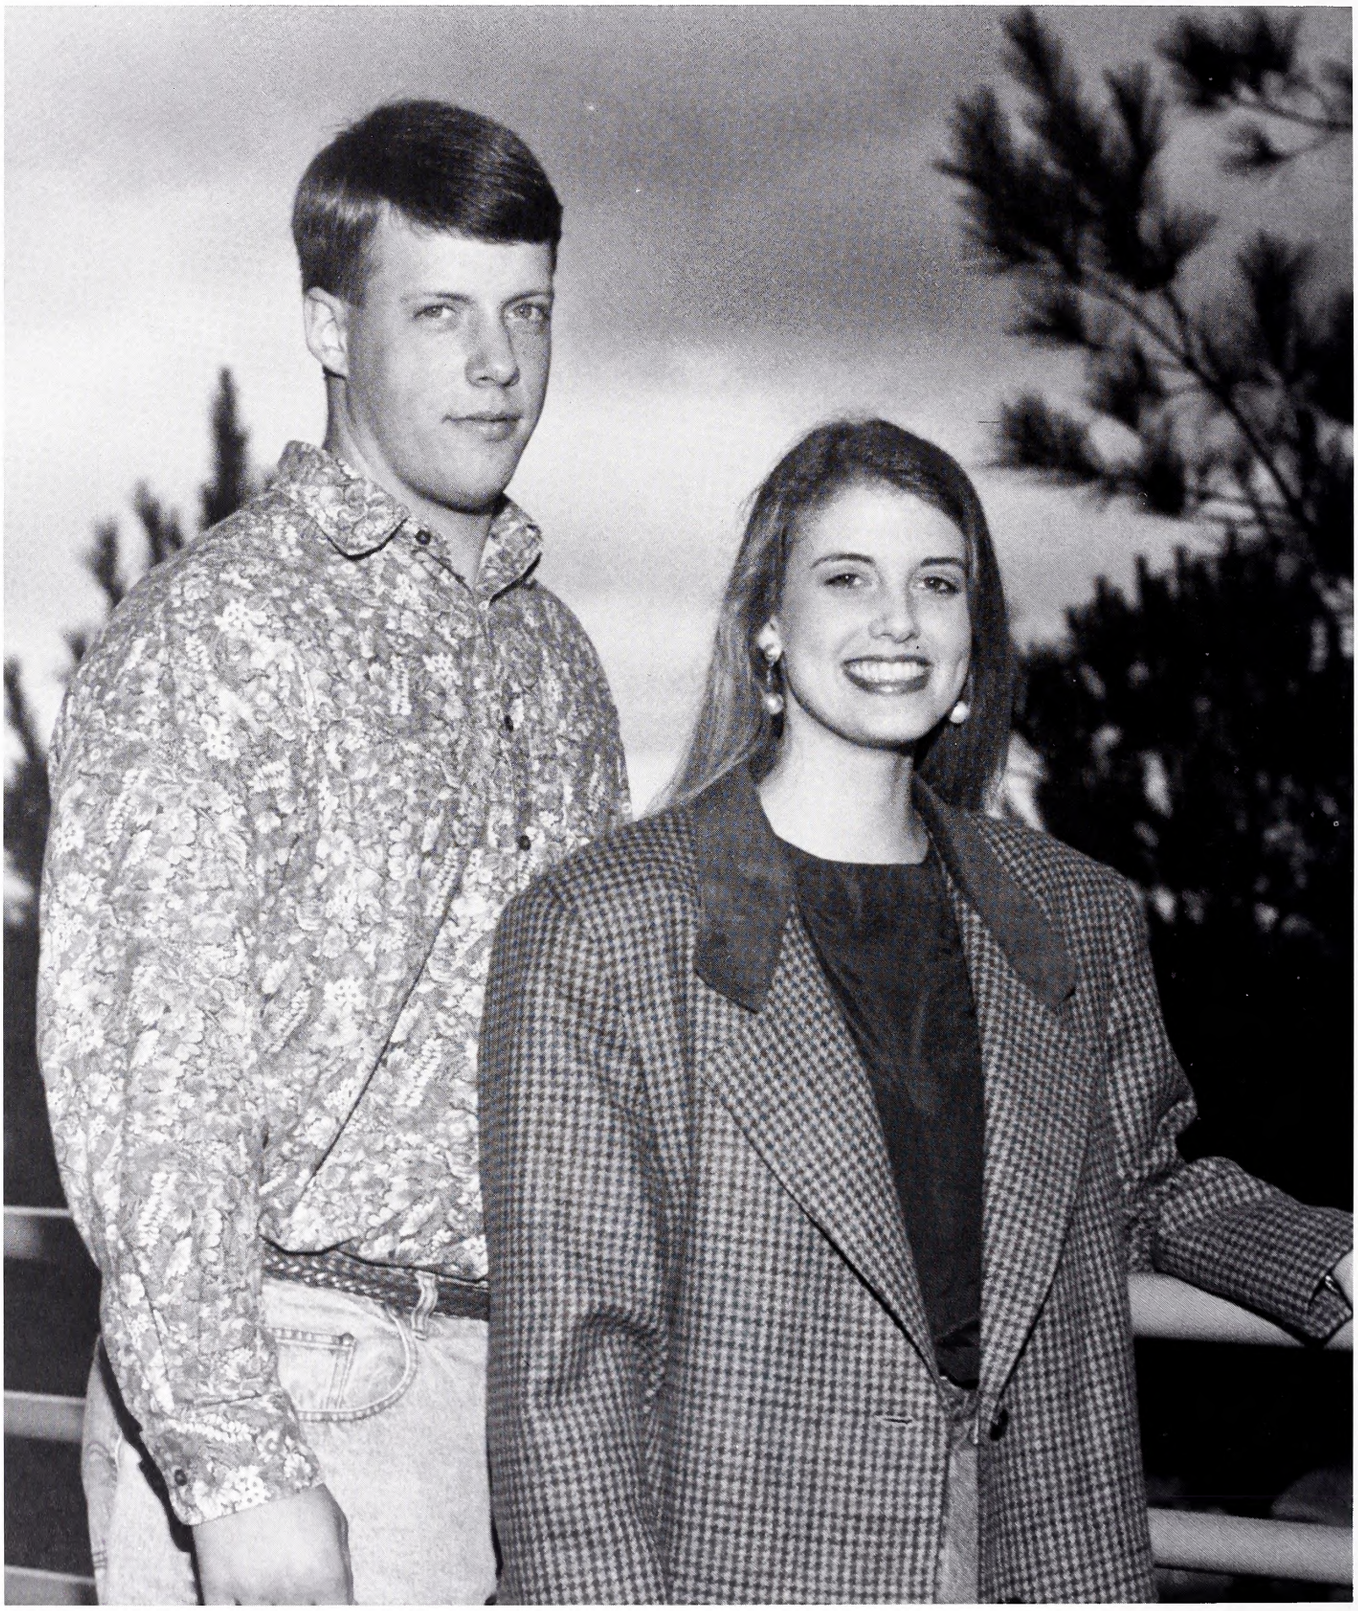
Student life provides enjoyable hang-outs on, off campus

Student Life is based on one traditional factor known as: Friendship. On the Co-Lin Campus, a beneficial friend is always easy to encounter. The students at Co-Lin aren't the only ones who are friendly, the staff as well as the faculty are also included. When you speak to anyone, no matter who they are, they always respond with a, "hello," and a fun-loving smile.

Student Life has a lot of enjoyable hang-outs. The rec-hall and the privileges of the lobby are the most important. The library and the learning center are the most helpful. The grill and the cafeteria are the most enjoyable for socializing and being with friends. Lake Lincoln is a part of Student Life in the fall and spring of the year for friends to gather together and celebrate the fun of having friends.

When they made the slogan, "Co-Lin ... the place to be," that statement said it all in one. Because when its time to go your own separate ways, you can always look back to Co-Lin's memories of student-life and know that you always encountered a friend.

Mr. and Miss Copiah-Lincoln
Chad Ashmore and Kristy Earles



Miss Co-Lin, Kristy Earles, of Magee, is president of the Student Government Association and the President's Council. She was elected Freshman Class President and chosen as Most Beautiful in 1992-93 school year. Cheerleading has been a part of Kristy's life for the last two years and she serves as co-captain of the cheerleading squad this year. Kristy was elected homecoming maid both years. She is also a member of Phi Theta Kappa, Alpha Omega, Future Teachers of America, and the Baptist Student Union.

Mr. Co-Lin, Chad Ashmore, of Brookhaven, has been a member of the Copiah-Lincoln Community College Wolf Pack football team for the past two years. Chad made 2nd team All-State in football his freshman year. He is also secretary of the sophomore class, member of the Student Government Association and the Art Club.

Lasting Achievements

Getting involved is very rewarding

A large part of attending college is involvement in organizations. It prepares us for our roles in society, promotes better citizenship, and develops interest in careers. Along with involvement in organizations comes the reward of friendship, newly acquired responsibilities, and the awards of achievement. These rewards aren't always plaques or certificates, but a kind word or a strong sense of accomplishment acquired through hard work in organizations and academics.

Academics

Many courses at Co-Lin, such as this art class, are designed to give the students "hands-on" experience. By teaching practical experience, students receive training background in their particular field. As a result of this, Co-Lin students are more well-rounded and better prepared. Whether they choose to go directly into the work force or continue their education at a university, they have the advantage of not only classroom learning but also the "hands-on" training to reinforce and further develop classroom knowledge.

Scholars Bowl

The 1994 Scholars Bowl has once again proudly represented Copiah-Lincoln in every aspect of academic excellence. In 1993-94 the Scholars Bowl team defeated Southwest and other junior colleges at the University of Mississippi to earn the title of State Champions. This year they had to return to Ole Miss to defend this well-deserved title.

The 1993-94 Scholars Bowl team includes these members: advisor, Durr Walker, Jr.; Tim Bracey, Loyd Star; Melanie Callender, Brookhaven; Brad Garner, Wesson; and Trina Howell, Brookhaven. This year's Scholars Bowl team worked hard in order to defend their Championship title at Ole Miss. Durr Walker said, "We've practiced daily and we're revved up!"

Students learn values

From pottery to Pascal, from creative writing to chemistry, from anatomy and physiology to pathogenic microbiology, from radio broadcasting to reading, Co-Lin offers a variety of academic courses each semester. Well over 300 courses appear on each semester's schedule. A student needing additional skills in English, reading, or math may take developmental courses to improve levels of study to enter the college-level courses. Students who have excelled may be invited to join the college's Honors Program. Students may choose from a wide variety of academic courses, leading to a major in numerous fields of study. Co-Lin's academic program is well respected throughout the state.

"The wonderful atmosphere makes Co-Lin the best place to be."

Food service, child care provide valuable training

The food service program of the vo-tech trains students who wish to pursue careers in such fields as catering, running a restaurant, and food preparation. The students learn not only how to prepare food, but also learn the proper way to set a table, take orders, as well as create a spread that is asthetic as well as appetizing.

The child care program began fifteen years ago with six to eight students working only with toddlers.

Now the program has expanded to include infants and preschoolers as well as toddlers. Enrollment also increased when the infant and toddler center was added.

"Being a small college, things are more personalized and it is easier to adjust to the college atmosphere."

— Krista Kimble

Students enrollment has increased to between thirty and forty students.

Students enrolled in child care actually train with real children.

Students work side by side with children to help them develop their skills.

Food service students prepare delicious meals.

Decorating and setting up for each function is important for Food Service students.

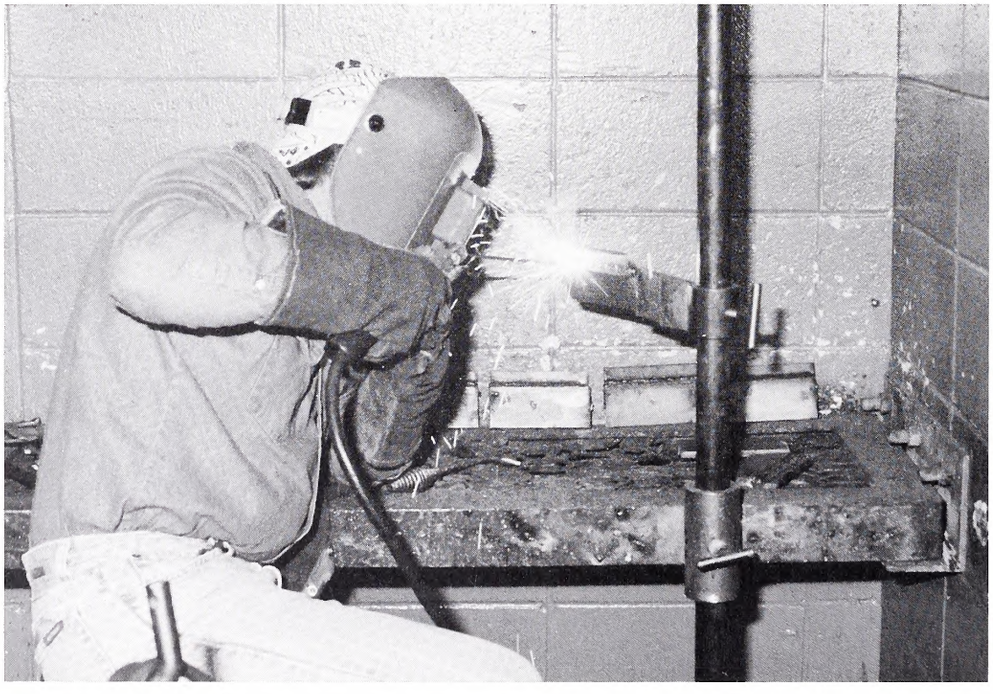
Many faculty and students' children are enrolled in the child care program.

Other vo-tech programs attract students

Students in the machine shop program at Co-Lin acquire an endless knowledge of metal work and industrial manufacturing. Those enrolled in the program also learn characteristics of different metals and their adaptability to the job. The program prepares students to enter industry as a entry-level machinist or an advanced apprentice.

"Co-Lin not only provides a superior educational atmosphere, but also a source of friendship for many years to come."

— David Patterson

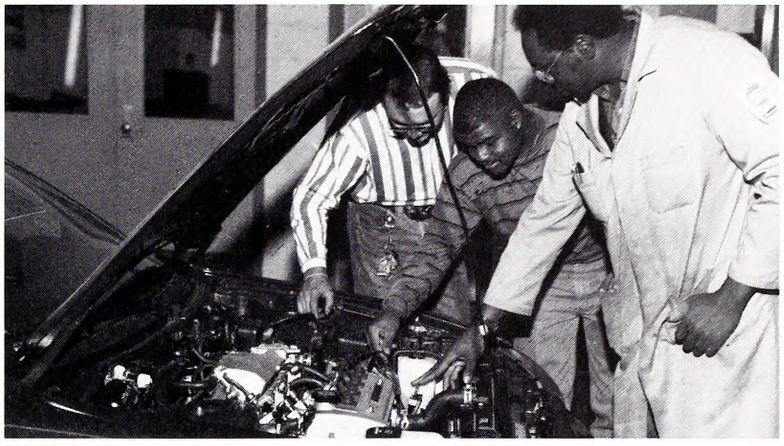


Welding is a popular one-year program at Co-Lin.

Cosmetology students learn the latest hair fashion.

Students can train to become a cosmetologist in three semesters.

Students can learn automotive technology in two years.



Machine shop students use the latest available equipment.

Students and their Instructors

A big factor on Co-Lin's campus is for students and instructors to be able to communicate. To grab the interest of the students and get them more involved, an instructor must be dedicated, committed to academic excellence, and well-trained.

The Organic Chemistry instructor considers her students "the cream of the crop" at Co-Lin. According to Dr. Phyllis Lanier, "I am their professional instructor, friend, advisor, and confidant. I love to teach them (students)."

Students at Co-Lin feel respect towards the instructors for their one-on-one approach. Melanie Callender feels that Dr. Lanier is, "always willing to help inside and outside the classroom."

The instructors at Co-Lin wear many hats. Students are both academically and culturally diverse. Students and instructors relationships at Co-Lin provide the best of both worlds.

Students Melanie Callender and Tommy Clopton give instructor Dr. Phyllis Lanier a helping hand in the Organic Chemistry Lab.

Hands-on experience

Vo-Tech provides training

The Vocational and Technical Division (Vo-Tech) at Co-Lin is very professional and takes pride in what it teaches. The knowledgeable and highly qualified instructors in Vo-Tech believe in one-on-one instruction and are highly respected by their students.

Co-Lin's Vo-Tech program includes everything from child care to commercial truck driving. The program here at Co-Lin is aware of our ever-changing world, and as technology changes every few years employers expect their workers to be skilled on these changes in order to keep a high rate of production. Co-Lin is right up there with this fast paced change and it is not hard to see the appreciation of our students for the quality education they are receiving in each program.

James Goza, who is enrolled in Automotive Technology, says, "I feel the program is preparing me for what I want to do for a living." Jamie Allen and Will Duncan both like the hands-on experience provided by Vo-Tech because it is preparing them for the work force that is awaiting them.

The other Vo-Tech programs at Co-Lin include these hands-on programs: Administrative Support Services; Air-conditioning, Refrigeration, Heating; Automotive Technology; Business Technology; Computer Technology; Cosmetology; Drafting and Design Technology; Electronics Technology; Heavy Equipment Mechanics; Heavy Equipment Operator; Industrial Maintenance; Machine Shop Technology; Medical Laboratory Technician; Micro-Computer Application; Practical Nursing; Professional Food Service Management; Radiography; and Welding.

Bits-N-Pieces is one of Co-Lin's in-house publications composed of works by students during the school year. Poetry, essays, short stories, and plays as well as art work are some of the many various selections contained within this first semester publication. Microcosm is Co-Lin's literary magazine published second semester which contains the winning selections of local high school students who entered the Microcosm contest. Also published in Microcosm are the winners of the Mississippi Community College Writing Association writing contest.

The Modern Foreign Language Club dedicates itself to promoting interest of other countries in students through the various speakers and programs it sponsors. At its monthly meetings, guest speakers are invited to come and share their knowledge of different countries. The food served at the meetings is representative of the country in study whenever typical recipes can be obtained. The National Theater of the Performing Arts presentation of LOS Aventuras de Don Quiote and the Dance Extravaganza were two of the culturally enlightening programs attended by the Modern Foreign Language Club.

Since 1980 the English Club has sponsored the annual Literary Hall of Fame whose recipient is announced at the Humanities Banquet at the end of April. The recipients of the Hall of Fame award are former Co-Lin students or teachers who have made significant contributions in the field of English and writing. The club is dedicated to developing an interest for English reading and writing on campus and sponsors several projects on campus in pursuit of its goal.

Attract Students

The Radiography Program at Copiah-Lincoln for many years has been noted as being the best in its class. The program generates 100% replacement each year since 1988.

Every year the program turns out many well qualified students into the work force and these students are very appreciative of the quality education they earned at Copiah-Lincoln. According to Paige Floyd, a student in the program, likes the fact that the program will provide a secure place in the medical community and will only take two years to accomplish this goal.

"The joy of performing our clinical duties by helping the elderly has really enriched my life. I'll soon have a career full of such meaningful experiences which makes all the hard work worthwhile." — Carrie Crutchfield, LPN Program. "You have a definite idea of what you'll be doing in the future unlike the four year program where you are often unsure of what you'll be doing." — Ladd Frazier, Radiography Program "It gives you the satisfaction of knowing that you are helping people in the hospital trying to make their stay better." — Anna Schilling, Radiography.

Big Shoes To Fill

Preparing for another successful season

Last season the men's basketball team fell short of lusty expectations. While returning four sophomore starters from last season, the Wolves are expected to have a great season. Coach Johnson stated in an earlier conference that he expected nothing less than a State Championship. Winning is achieved through hard work, and hard work is something that has become a natural among the men and women basketball teams.

Let's look at the Lady Wolves. Last year they were undefeated in conference play. This year they are undefeated in conference play again. When asked the question, "Do you think you'll win state again?" Coach Gwyn Young said that it was very possible. But among the success there is a purpose. The purpose of the sport is enjoyment and fun. Whether or not the winning streaks continue among the men and women basketball teams, we must remember as students, faculty, and fans that winning isn't everything, it's the only thing.

Fans make season

For the past two seasons the Co-Lin Wolves football team has struggled. Although there were periods that the Wolves seemed invincible, there were times when the Wolves looked merely tired. The greatest force that the Wolves had going for them was the fans. Win or lose the students, faculty, and fans were always there supporting the Wolves. After returning 29 players from last season, the Wolves fell short of high expectations that were attached to them. Coach Randall Bradberry stated that he was proud of the players, but with a 2-8 record he was disappointed. Next year the Wolves will have a different nucleus, and as always, win or lose the fans will be there for support.

Wolves

The 1993-94 Wolves Men's basketball team began the season with four sophomore and one freshman starters. The sophomore players are doing a tremendous job for the Wolves, especially DeCarlos Anderson, Reggie Henderson, Eric Jackson, Michael Norwood and Reggie Ware. Coach Johnson is thankful for the kind of leadership these young men bring to the team. He also believes that with this leadership ability and the talent displayed by the freshmen players, next year will be very successful as was this year.

Lady Wolves

When the women's basketball team returned to campus, they found themselves with a lot of work to be done. Lost by graduation were Megan Reibock, Barbara Peyton, Cheryl Clark, Jennifer Slay, and Terri Sneed. With only one starter returning from last year's team, tragedy fell on them again with the knee injury to Heather Ratcliff. But taking the leadership were Sacrenette Moore and Tara Garrett.

Administration

As we take one last look at the 1993-94 school year, we are reminded of all the good times we had and all the caring individuals who work hard to make Co-Lin the great place it is. The special feeling our students have comes from the time taken by the administrators to develop one-on-one relationship with the student. Now as the year comes to a close, several of our administrators reflect upon their favorite memories of the year.

The 1993-94 school year has been one of great changes: the new ADN program and facility, the Frank Oswalt Nature Trail, new parking facilities on the campus, plans for a new 18-hole golf course, and a $4 million building bond issue for the Natchez Campus, said Dr. Billy Thames, President. He goes on to add "Co-Lin has been blessed with great teachers and students. Each year we hate to see our very fine students graduate and move on to the university. We do follow them with interest, though, and are very proud of their achievements."

Jim Kyzar, business manager, had this to say: "This has been the most exciting and challenging year of my 18 years as business manager of Co-Lin. There have been tremendous improvements in physical plans and maintenance, such as the new construction projects: the new campus building, lights to the athletic fields, the new golf course, and the parking improvements."

"I viewed the year as being very progressive in many areas. I think one of the highlights of the year, one that I will always remember, was the presentation by Anthony Herrera and Tandy Cronyn in "Love Letters" as this brought off-broadway to our front door," comments Burlian Walker.

Dr. Howell C. Garner: Dedicated to Excellence

Finding a fulfilling career may be hard for some people, but college dean Dr. Howell C. Garner knew he had found the end of the rainbow when he became a college administrator.

Dr. Garner said, "I love administration because of its involvement with people." He not only feels strongly about his role as an administrator, but also about the role that community colleges play in the lives of people in the district.

As a comprehensive community college, it is Dr. Garner's responsibility to see that the college offers a diverse range of curricula, from pre-medical to auto mechanics. This becomes more of a challenge each year because of enrollment increases and state funding.

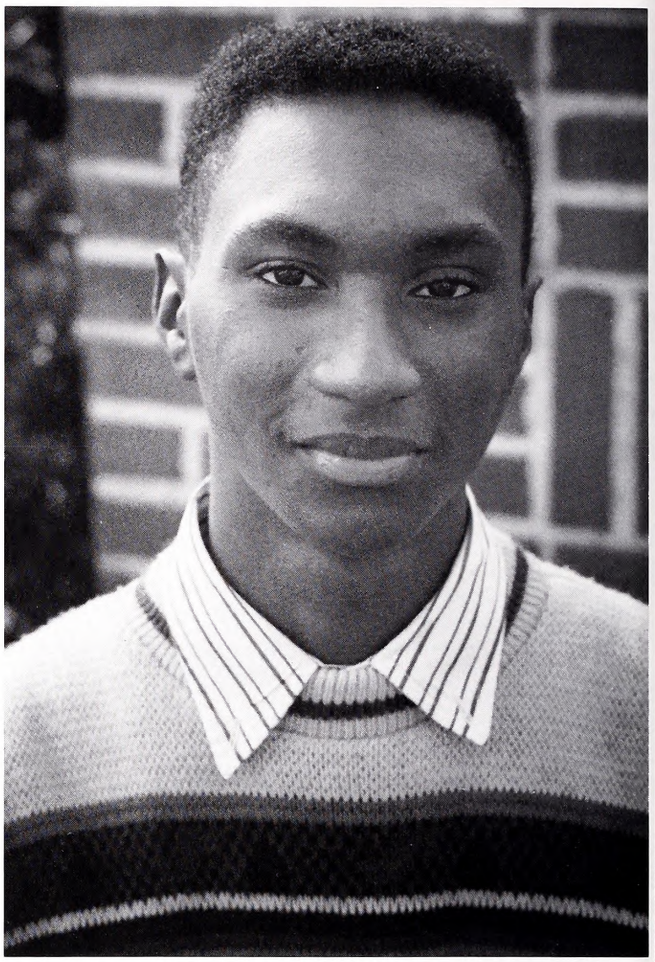
TIM BRACEY



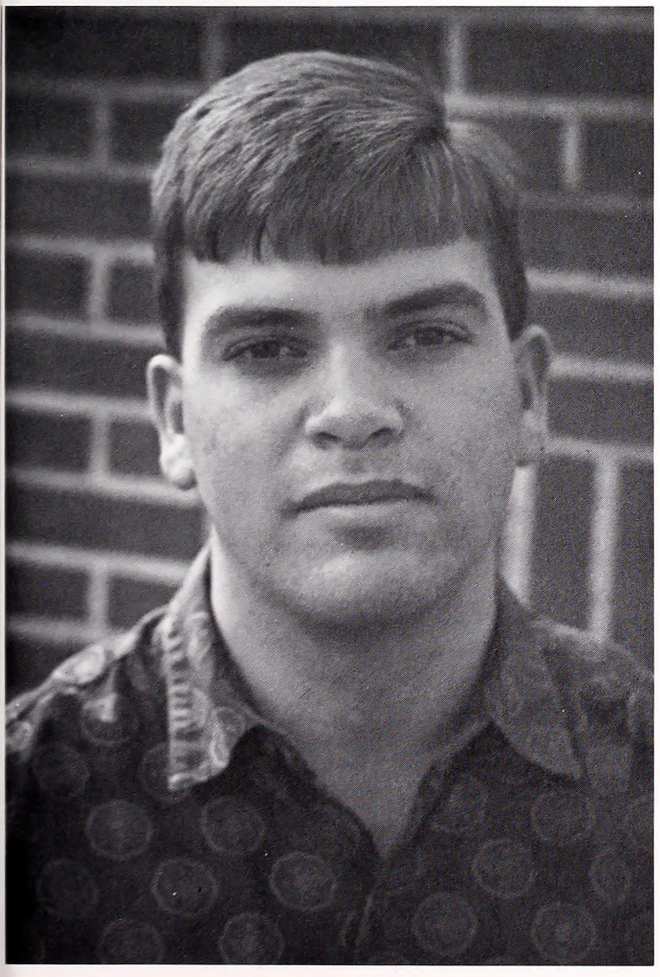
A President's List Scholar, Tim Bracey is active in campus activities. Selected to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges, Tim is treasurer/fundraiser of the Eta Omega chapter of Phi Theta Kappa. A computer science major, Tim is parliamentarian of Phi Beta Lambda and is active in the English Club. He was chosen as a member of this year's Scholars Bowl team. He is a President's List Scholar. Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bracey of Brookhaven. He is a graduate of Loyd Star High School.

CAROLE DYKES

A speech pathology major, Carole Dykes is a busy sophomore. She is an active member of Phi Theta Kappa, is vice-president of the English Club, is secretary of the Co-Lin Trailblazers, and of Modern Foreign Language Club. A President's List Scholar, Carole is a member of Co-Lin's Honors Program and she was elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. She holds an ACT Scholarship. Her parents are Dr. and Mrs. Isaac Jerry Dykes of Wesson. Carole is a graduate of Wesson High School.

KRISTY EARLES

Active in all phases of campus life, Kristy Earles is president of the Student Government Association and of the President's Council. Chosen to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges, Kristy was elected Miss Copiah-Lincoln Community College, a homecoming maid for two years, and was judged Co-Lin's most beautiful her freshman year. She is a member of Alpha Omega, Baptist Student Union, Future Teachers of America, and Phi Theta Kappa. She was freshman class president. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Earles of Magee, she is a graduate of Magee High School. Kristy has been a cheerleader for two years and is co-head cheerleader this year. She is an elementary education major and is a President's List scholar.

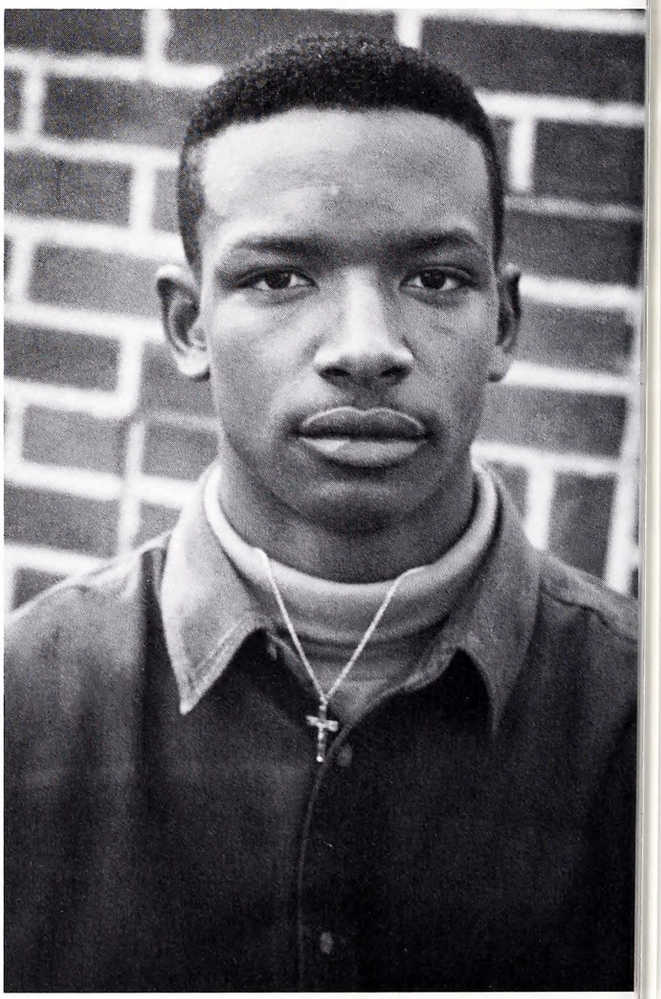


BRAD C. GARNER

Phi Theta Kappa has been a big part of Brad Garner's life at Co-Lin, having served as PTK president and a MS/LA Regional officer; having been inducted into the Order of the Golden Key; and a Mississippi delegate to the 1993 PTK Honors Institute in Elizabethtown, Penn. He has been a two year member of the Honors Program with a 4.0 GPA, newsletter editor for the English Club, of the Co-Lin Trailblazers, and the marching, concert, and jazz bands. His freshman year he was vice-president of his class and active in the Student Government Association. He is a member of the President's Council and is a President's List Scholar. Brad was selected to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. Brad is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Howell C. Garner of Wesson. He is a landscape architecture major and was selected as a member of this year's Scholars Bowl team. He is a graduate of Wesson High School.

ANGELA G. SMITH

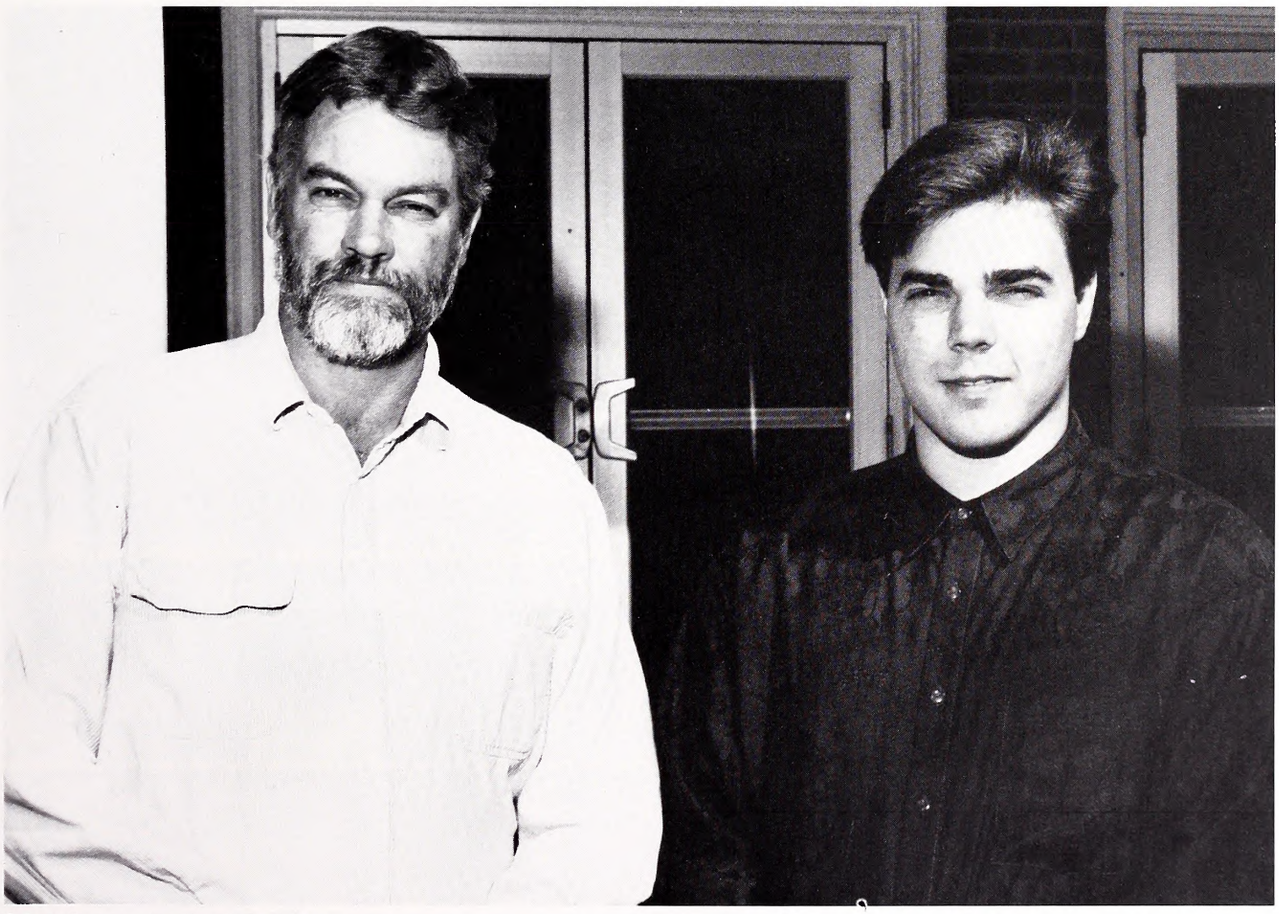
Angela G. Smith is an active member of the student body, serving as president of the Co-Lin Trailblazers and secretary of Phi Theta Kappa. She was voted to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges, is a President's List Scholar, and was voted a campus favorite. Angela is an active member of Baptist Student Union, Alpha Omega science club, the English Club, and she was freshman class secretary and member of the Student Government Association. She is also a member of the President's Council. She has been drum major with the Co-Lin Blue Wave Marching Band for two years, and plays in the Jazz and Concert Bands. Angela is alto section leader for the Concert choir, has been a Sojourner for two years, and was selected to the Mississippi All-State Community College choir. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Smith of Jayess, she is a graduate of Lawrence County High School. Angela is a pre-nursing major.



REGINALD DAMON WARE

An Honors List Scholar, Reginald Damon Ware is an all-around student who was named to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. A two-year member of the Co-Lin Trailblazers and the Art Club, Reggie is treasurer of the Student Government Association and former treasurer of Phi Theta Kappa honorary fraternity. He has been an outstanding two-year member of the Co-Lin Wolves basketball team. An architect major, he is a graduate of Natchez High School. Reggie holds an Engineer and an ACT Scholarship to Co-Lin. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reo Maynard of Natchez.

Outstanding Instructors of the Year, selected by the Alumni Association, are (left to right) Maurice Cammack, academics; Dr. Howell Garner, who presented the awards; and Donald Smith vocational-technical. Both were honored at homecoming.



Selected as outstanding HEADWAE instructor and student are Tom Ross and Josh Wright, respectively. Both were honored by the Mississippi Legislature on February 8.

PBL prepares for state competition

Co-Lin's Wesson campus Phi Beta Lambda chapter worked towards winning its share of awards at this year's PBL State Leadership Conference. Last year the Nu Kappa chapter was named Mississippi's "Most Outstanding Chapter" over 35 other junior, community, senior college and university chapters as Co-Lin business students won 14 awards. Since 1977 PBL members have won 200 state competition awards, along with 47 national awards.

"PBL is the collegiate counterpart of the familiar high school organization, FBLA, with over 40 college and university chapters state-wide and over 700 chapters nationwide," comments co-advisor Mike McIntyre.

The main idea for PBL is to help students develop leadership and other necessary business skills by participating in extracurricular activities and a chance to compete with students from other colleges and universities.

At the PBL State Leadership Conference students compete in many activities, including in individual categories and in group projects such as Partnership with Business Project and the American Enterprise Project.

Mrs. Jean Ricks, right, is the immediate past chairman of the board of national PBL.

Partnership for Business Project research team is composed of Marcus Wilson, Amanda Fortenberry, Heather Nevill, Charlotte Bonnabel and Carla Bell. Editors Bid Farewell

The 1993-94 Trillium editors,

Josie Sanders of McCall Creek, Heather Nevill of Natchez, and Amanda Fortenberry of Crystal Springs, would like to thank our staff members for their devotion and cooperation in working on this annual. We would also like to thank the faculty, administration, and students for their time, patience and smiles. A special thanks goes to Mr. Johnny C. Smith for his time, efforts, and creative photography that show us One Last Look at Co-Lin. Josie, Heather and Amanda send a heart warming hug to Mr. Burlian Walker for his dedication, patience, and creative thoughts.

"The people on the annual staff at Co-Lin are more responsible than in high school and that makes it more enjoyable," says Amanda. Heather states, "The annual staff, administration, faculty and students have been wonderful and have made my past two years as an editor enjoyable and rewarding — Thanks everyone!"

"My only desire is that this annual will be a source of memories for each of you who lived it and made it all happen!" says Josie. Josie, Heather and Amanda present to you the 1993-94 Copiah-Lincoln Community College Trillium Yearbook ... One Last Look!

The Executive Editors,

Heather Nevill

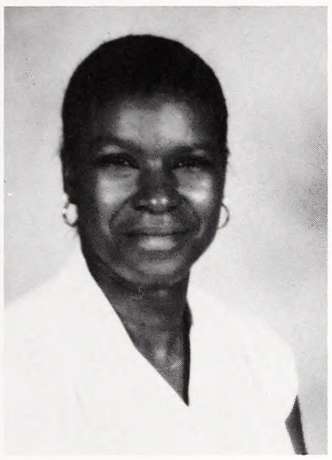
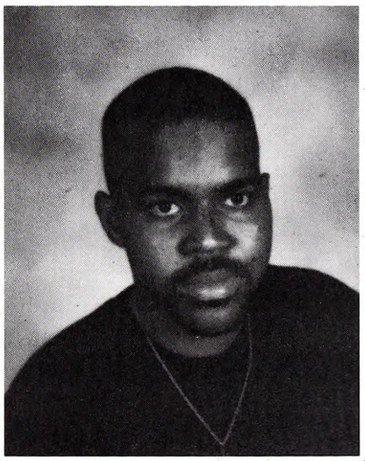
In Memory of



Martha Hebert

Martha Hebert of Monticello was found murdered in her Monticello home in October. A pre-nursing major, she was a member of Phi Theta Kappa and was selected to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges in 1992-93. Martha is sadly missed by her many friends.



DAVID WAYNE SHAW, JR.

MAJOR: PHYSICAL THERAPY

Remember his gracious, loving smile,
That brought sunshine to the rain.
And his "chocolate milk and doughnuts",
That help to take away our pain.
Bless our love for David, Lord,
For many, many years,
Keep our memories of him warm,
And forever free from tears.

COPIAH-LINCOLN
COMMUNITY COLLEGE
Class of 1987

WE ARE MOVING!

From the early 1950's to the late 1970's, the Washington Consolidated School building located on Highway 61 North in Washington, Mississippi served as an elementary school. In the summer of 1981 Co-Lin/Natchez moved into the building.

In the twelve years that Co-Lin has occupied this building, the student population has increased dramatically, causing overcrowding in the classrooms and in the parking lot.

More than 600 students crowd almost daily into a structure that can comfortably house only four classrooms, two biological laboratories and one computer laboratory. Finding a parking space can sometimes be compared to playing "musical chairs". The building, itself, is dilapidated. Air conditioning and heating systems are inadequate. There are cracks in the walls and leaks in the roof. Some of the windows are sealed shut and cannot be opened.

For the past four years, Co-Lin's administrators have tried to persuade the Adams County Board of Supervisors to fund the construction of a new facility but were unsuccessful in the appeal. However, this year things changed! There was a major push, not only among the school's administrators, but also among students, faculty, staff, and friends of Co-Lin to convince the Board of Supervisors to change their minds and fund the building project. Their efforts paid off. Funding for the new facility was approved on September 13.

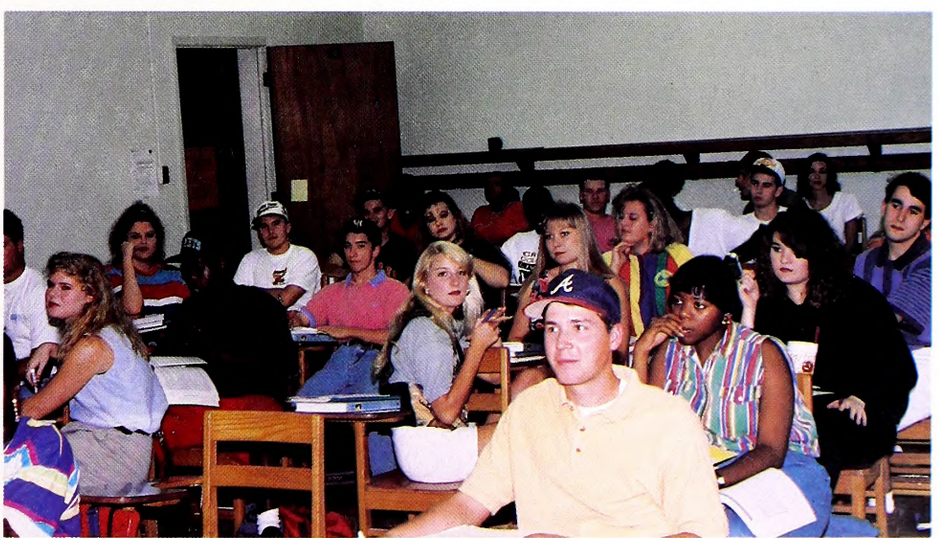
Travis Thornton, Dean of the Natchez Campus, was and still is ecstatic about the news. He said, "Everyone, including faculty, staff, students, and residents of Adams County are very pleased. We got 2.75 mills based upon the current interest rate which is to be paid off in 15 years."

The new structure will be located near Co-Lin's Vocational-Technical School and Alcorn State University's Division of Nursing.

"Four classrooms simply are not enough for the hundreds of students registered at Co-Lin Natchez."

Travis Thornton

According to Thornton, "The groundwork should start in early spring. If all goes well with the weather and other considerations of the building plans, Co-Lin's academic classes could be taught in the new facility in the fall of 1995 or the spring of 1996."



Travis Thornton Associate Dean Natchez Campus

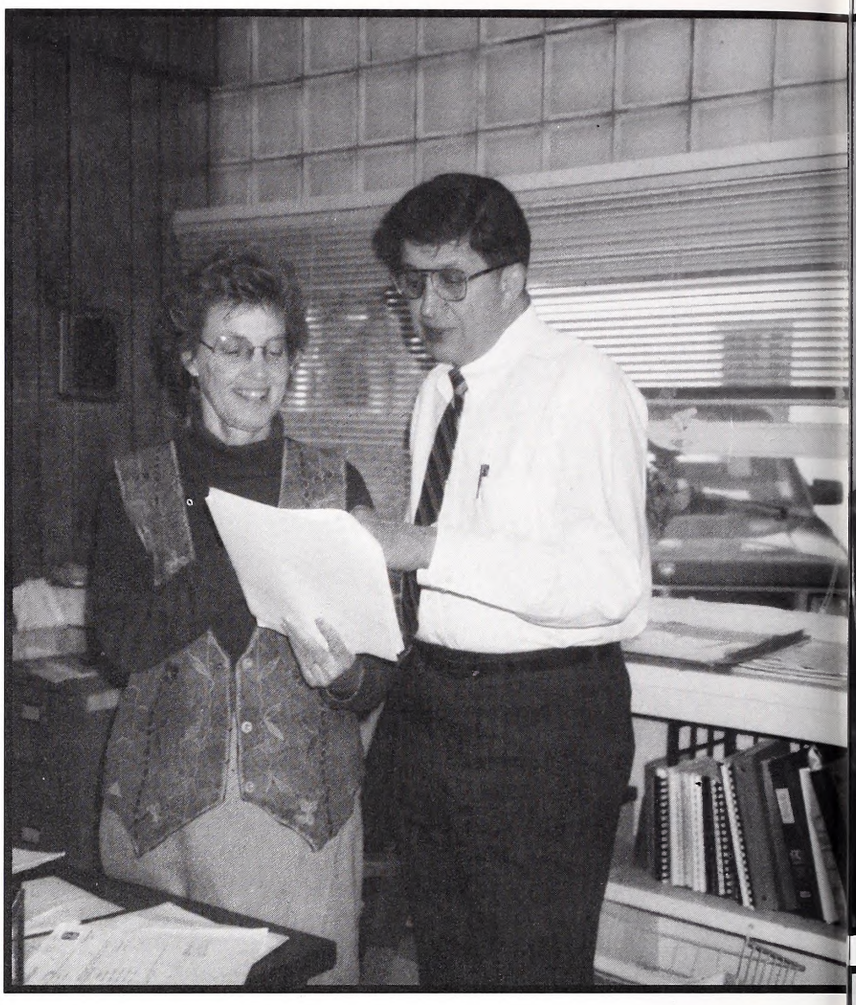
Travis Thornton joined Co-Lin as Dean of the Natchez campus in July, 1990. Thornton holds a Master of Education degree from Mississippi College in Clinton and a Bachelor of Education degree from Delta State University in Cleveland.

Thornton has been an active member in various civic and political organizations and has served as president in many of these organizations. These presidencies include the Mississippi School Counselors Association, Mississippi Junior College Counselor Association, Mississippi Association of College Registrars and Admission Officers, Kiwanis Club of Leland, Rotary Club of Moorhead, and Mississippi Delta Junior College.

According to Thornton, the number one goal of Co-Lin/Natchez "is to try to meet the education and training needs of the Natchez/Adams County area and the surrounding regions." He added, "another goal is to increase overall enrollment, not just for the sake of size, but to grow to meet community needs."

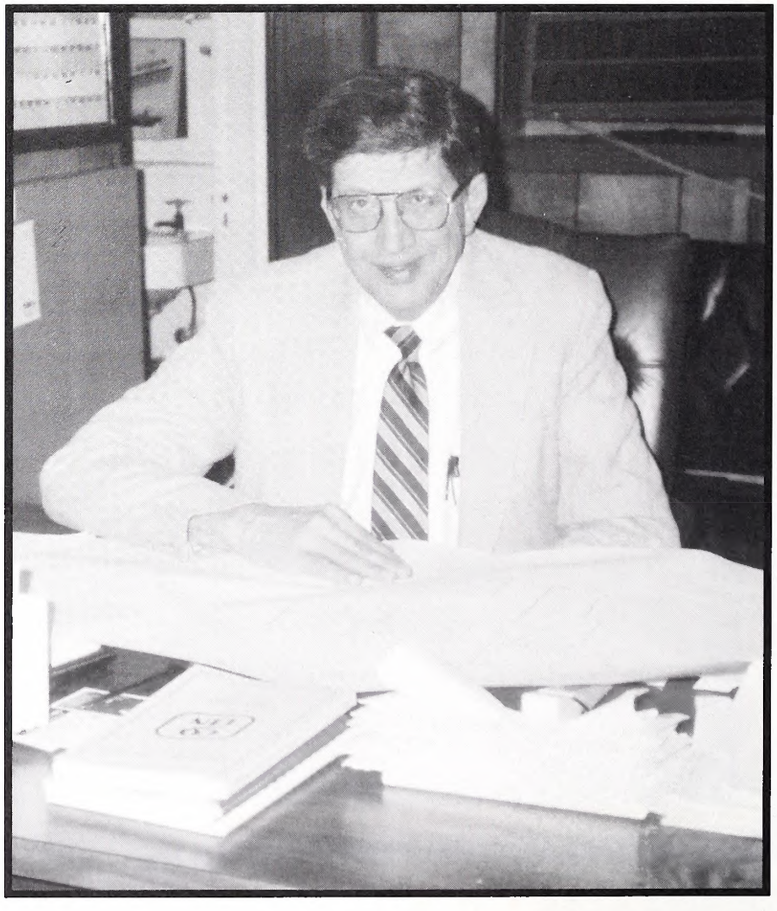
Thornton feels that the greatest thrill in his life comes from seeing the positive results of his efforts. He explains that positive results "may be the success of a student, a teacher, a staff member, a program, or an effort that helps fulfill the mission and goal of the college."

Thornton feels that personal success is achieved "when accomplishments are fulfilled in a harmonious and cooperative spirit, when enjoyment comes with each effort, when dreams and ambitions are reached, and I can feel that my abilities have helped facilitate those goals."



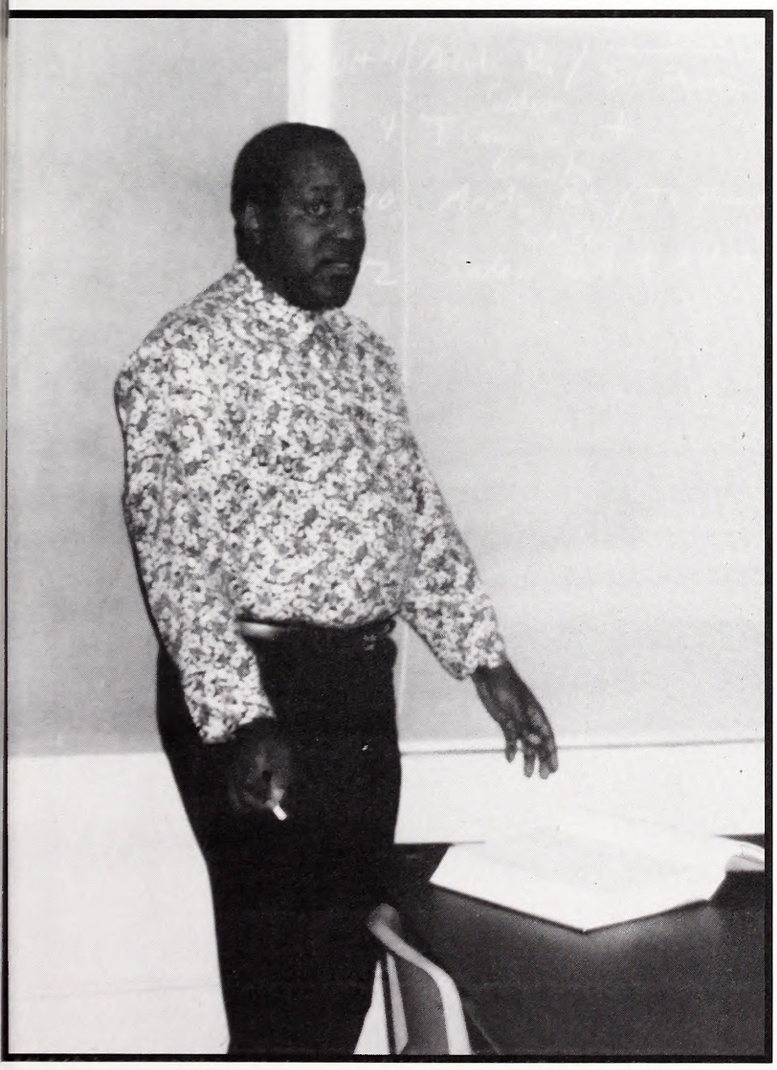
Dean Thornton and Sandra Davidson review the architectural plans for the new Co-Lin academic building.

The Thornton family includes Travis and Jenny Thornton and their son, Rob.



The camera caught Dean Thornton at his desk reviewing the floor plans for the new academic facility to be built during 1994 and 1995.

Kenneth J. Taylor receives the 1993-1994 Natchez Trillium Dedication



Kenneth J. Taylor is a graduate of North Natchez High School. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in accounting from Jackson State University and a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Southern Mississippi, with additional studies from Jackson State University.

Taylor is a respected and dedicated employee of Co-Lin for ten years. He teaches accounting, economics, and business law. He is also faculty advisor to all business majors.

Taylor currently serves as faculty representative to the Mississippi Junior College Faculty Association. He is a recipient of the 1992-93 National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development award. He is also a junior warder of LR Paige Lodge #20, a third degree Mason. Taylor has served as co-chairman and finance manager of the Natchez Literary Celebration.

His previous work experiences include being a senior buyer for the Hyland Electric Supply Company in Chicago, Illinois, an electronic data processor and counter salesman for the Irby Company of Pascagoula, and an Internal Revenue Agent for the IRS office in Johnson City, Tennessee.

Taylor is the son of the late Andrew and Francis Taylor and the brother of Diane and Melvin Taylor.

With respect and admiration the Natchez Trillium is dedicated to Mr. Taylor.

For his years of tireless energy and his love of teaching, the Natchez section of the 1993-1994 Trillium is respectfully dedicated to Kenneth J. Taylor.

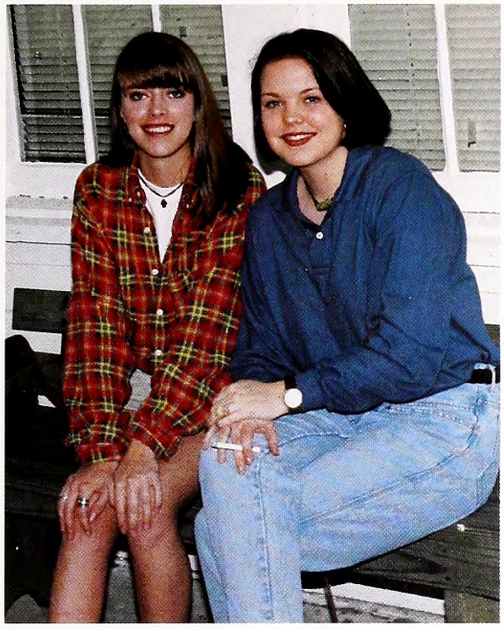
Memories of Happy Days



⬆ Katheryn Brown and Rebecca Flourney form an everlasting friendship.

⬅ One of Elizabeth Tarver's favorite past times between classes is reaching out to touch someone.

While the college years can be very demanding and stressful years, they can also be one of the most exciting times a person will ever experience and remember.

Will we forget the excitement and anticipation of Registration Day? Will we remember the fears that were mixed with nervous laughter as instructors and staff members assisted us in making sense out of our class schedules?

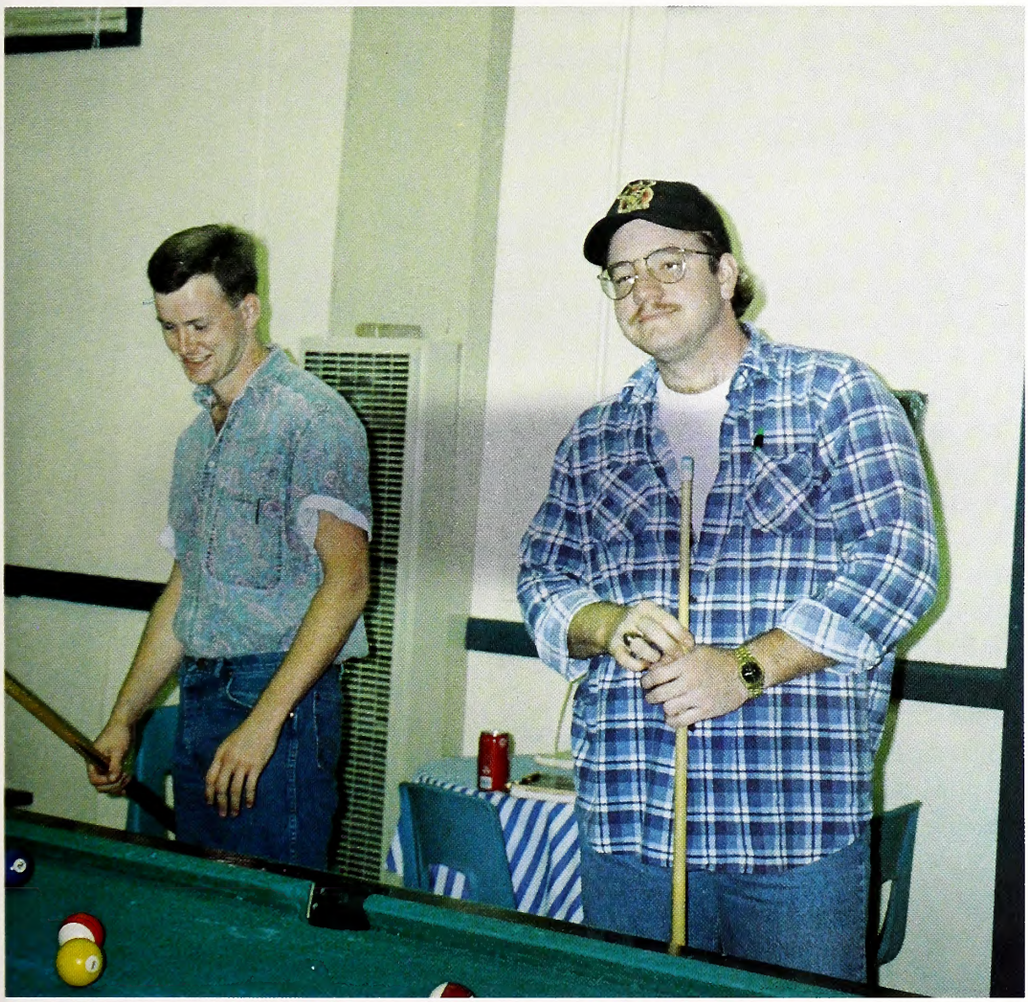
Will we forget that very first day of class when we sat anxiously in our seats waiting for our instructors to appear in class?

Will we forget the late night and early morning cram sessions, the anxiety attacks we experienced not only when the instructor gave us a test, but also when we got back the test results?

Will we forget eating in the Hob Nob, being tutored in the Learning Center, and spending more time than we would have liked in the library?

Will we forget the friendships that were formed as we shared our lecture notes with each other.

No! None of us will forget because some memories, especially the happy ones, last a lifetime.



⬆ Jeanette Mason shows us one of the results of hard time cram sessions. So beware!

HALL OF FAME

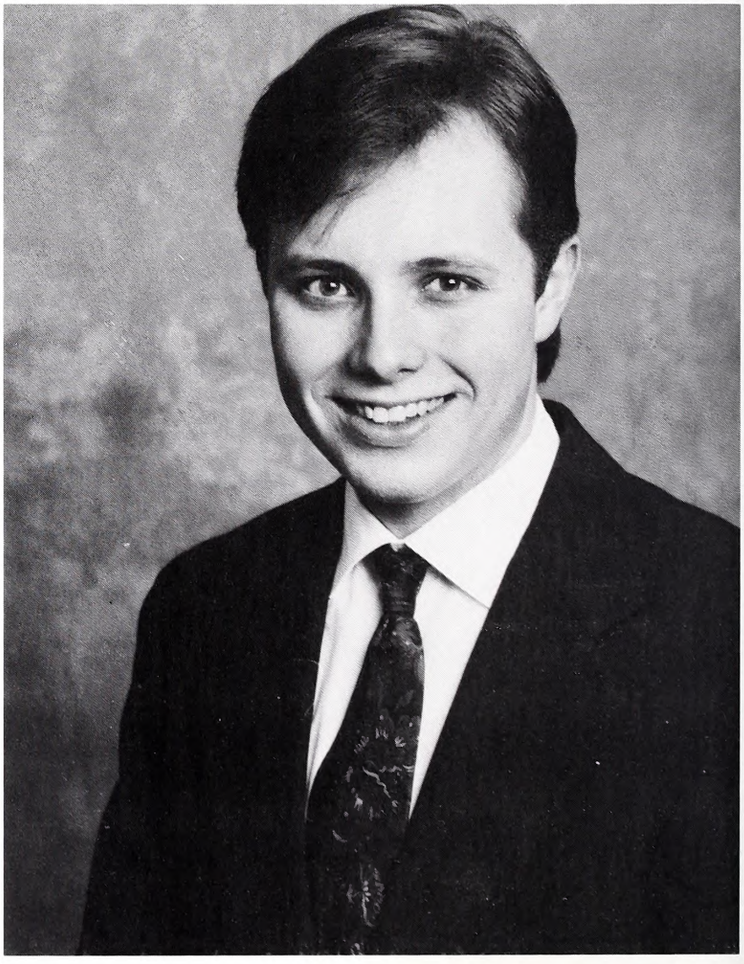
Three students receive highest honor.

RHONDA ANN BINNS

A business administration major, Rhonda Ann Binns stays on the Dean's List. She is listed in the 1992-1993 Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. A 1990 graduate of Trinity High School in Natchez and a 1992 graduate of Co-Lin/Natchez with a degree in micro-computer, Binns is very active in various clubs and organizations on campus. She is vice-president of Phi Theta Kappa and a member of Phi Beta Lambda, Circle K and the Spanish club. Binns works off campus at the Highland Health Club in Natchez.

BRADLEY ROBERT TAYLOR

"Busy" describes Hall of Famer, Bradley Robert Taylor. A business administration major, he is on the Dean's List. He is listed in the 1993-94 Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. A 1992 graduate of Forest Hill High School in Jackson, Taylor is vice-president of the Student Government Association and parliamentarian for both Phi Theta Kappa and Phi Beta Lambda. He is also the 1994 Phi Beta Lambda Southern Region Parliamentarian for 12 states. Taylor is the lieutenant governor of the LA-MISS-TENN District for Circle K. He was Scholar's Bowl team captain, sophomore class favorite, student of the month, and a member of the varsity tennis team. Taylor is a nominee from Co-Lin for the USA Today/Phi Theta Kappa Community college Academic All-American Team. In 1993 he participated in the Phi Beta Lambda business fraternity National Leadership Conference, where he placed fifth in the nation in business principles. Taylor earned the right to compete at the national level by placing first in state competition. In the middle of all the hustle and bustle of student life, he works as a salesman at McRae's in Natchez.



CONNIE THORNBURG

Joining two other Hall of Famers is Connie Thornburg, an administrative support service major. Thornburg has a cumulative grade point average of 3.07. She is listed in the 1993-1994 Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. She is also active in various clubs and organizations at the Natchez campus. Thornburg is a reporter for Phi Beta Lambda, a member of Phi Theta Kappa and a staff member of the school's newspaper, N-Sights. She has participated in Phi Beta Lambda state competition and attended the 1993 Phi Beta Lambda fall leadership conference. Thornburg is a work study student in the Vocational-Technical office at the Beltline site.

MR. AND MISS CO-LIN NATCHEZ

Mr. Co-Lin, Robert "Pat" Hall, is the husband of Jo Ann Hall and the proud father of three. He is an accounting major and plans to continue his education at Northeast Louisiana University in Monroe. Pat is a recipient of the Sherryn McDonald Scholarship. He is listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges for 1993-1994.

Miss Co-Lin, Sharee "Renee" Rodriguez is the daughter of Rudy and Dianne Rodriguez. She is a nursing major and plans to continue her education at Alcorn School of Nursing. Last year Renee was elected as one of the freshman maids for the Homecoming Court.

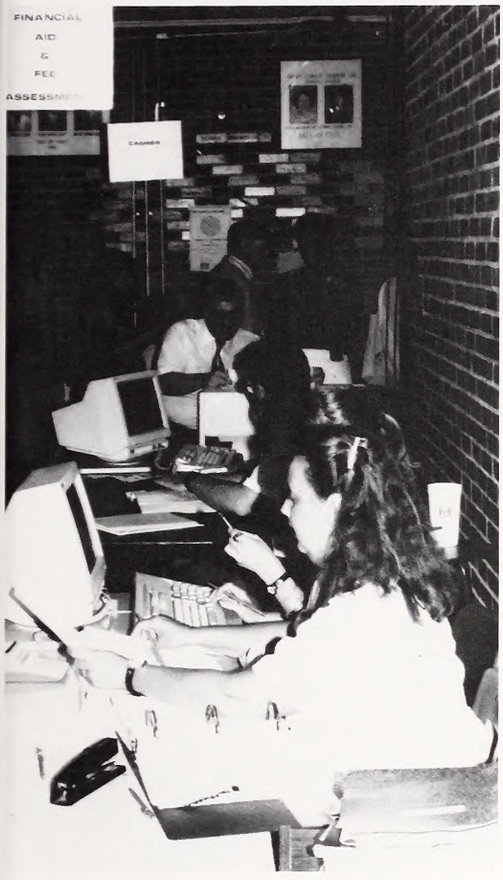
FRUSTRATION MIXED WITH EXCITEMENT



Barbara Smith was a welcomed sight, seeing her meant that you had completed registration. ⬆

Judy Case sang, "Give me money. That's what I want" during registration. ⬅

Frustration mixed with excitement best describes Registration Day at most colleges and universities and Co-Lin/Natchez is no exception.

Registration Day often means standing in long lines to sign up for classes, pay tuition, and purchase expensive textbooks. This year, enrollment increased significantly, causing lines to be extremely long, especially when it came to paying tuition.

Sandra Davidson, Director of Admissions, wanted to create two separate lines at the tuition station to handle the large number of students, but was unable to do so. "We tried to add another computer to the line," she explained "but the building's electrical wiring system couldn't handle the load, making the line for over 500 students longer and slower."

Even though Registration Day is not always the best day, it is not the worst. It is a day that begins a new and exciting chapter in many of our lives and all of us have learned to grin and bear it.

⬅ Respiratory Care students, Delores Robillard and Christi Junkin, were caught tackling a "Bear"-3 ventilator at Natchez Regional Medical Care.

One of the primary objectives of Co-Lin is to provide vocational and technical programs that prepare students for immediate employment. The vocational training program at the Natchez campus includes commercial truck driving, practical nursing, professional food service and management, and communication electronics repair. The technical programs include, sales and management technology, business technology, hotel-motel management technology, and respiratory care technology. A vocational technical certificate is awarded to students upon successful completion of the curriculum.

Vocational-technical training prepares students for the whole gamut of jobs from entry-level to the most advanced. Studies prove that vocational education increases students' chances for job placement and success. According to Donna Martello, Associate Dean for Vocational-Technical Education, "the primary reason most parents want an education for their children is job opportunities and better jobs. Vocational programs help prepare students for work or college. It is an insurance for success!"

Who's Who Among Students In American Junior Colleges

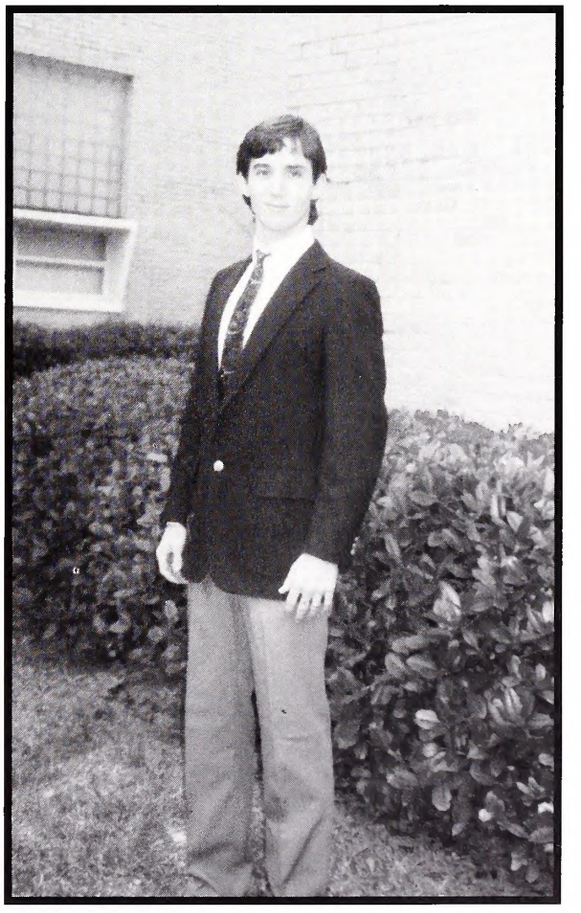
The 1993-94 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will include the names of twenty-three students selected from the Natchez campus.

All students named for this honor were nominated by faculty members from the Beltline and Washington sites. These students were chosen based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and potential for continued success, according to Dean Thornton.

We congratulate the winners of Who's Who for their outstanding work.

Tami Novak is a nursing major and a member of PTK. She keeps in shape by walking with friend, Christine Junkin.

Beau Britt is a premedical major, who serves as president of SGA and PTK. He is also a member of Circle K.



Sharing The Spotlight

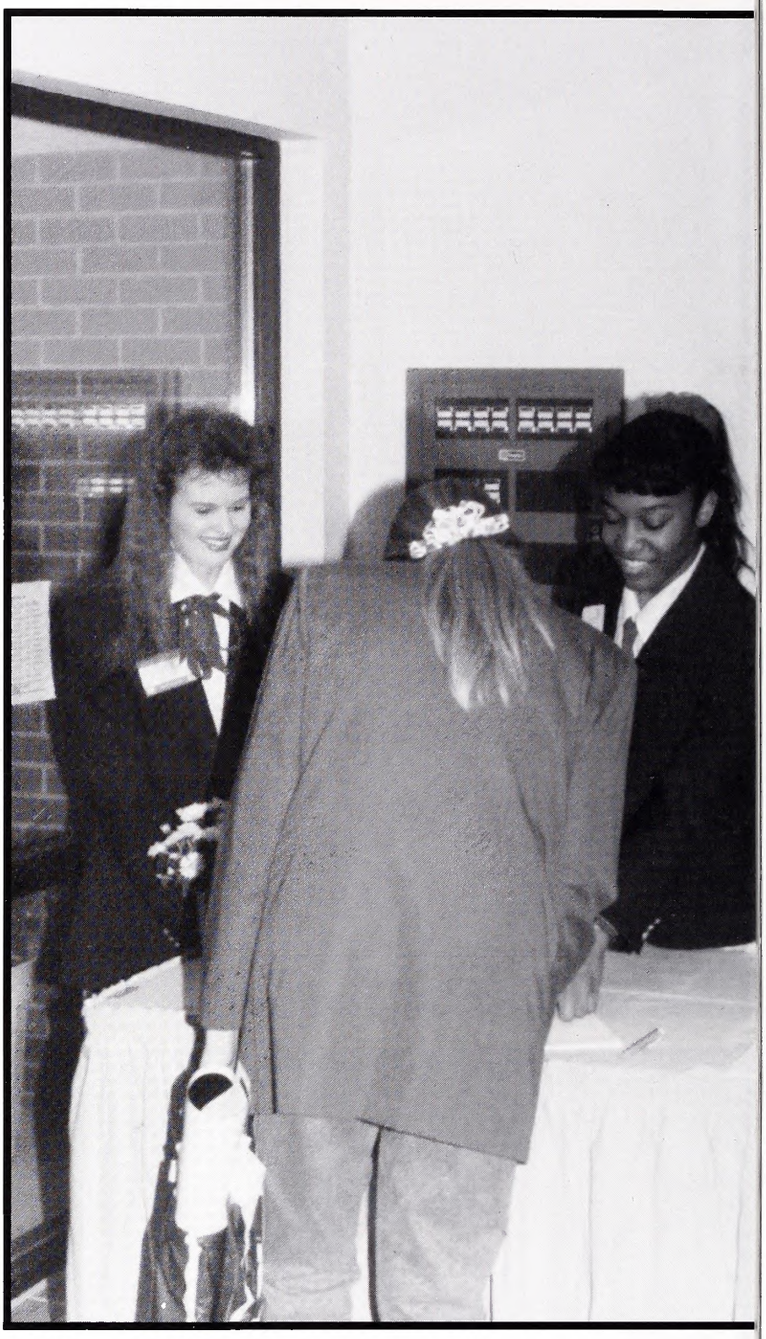
SHARE, Spanish Club, N-Sights

During the school year, many students were involved with various clubs' and organizations' activities.

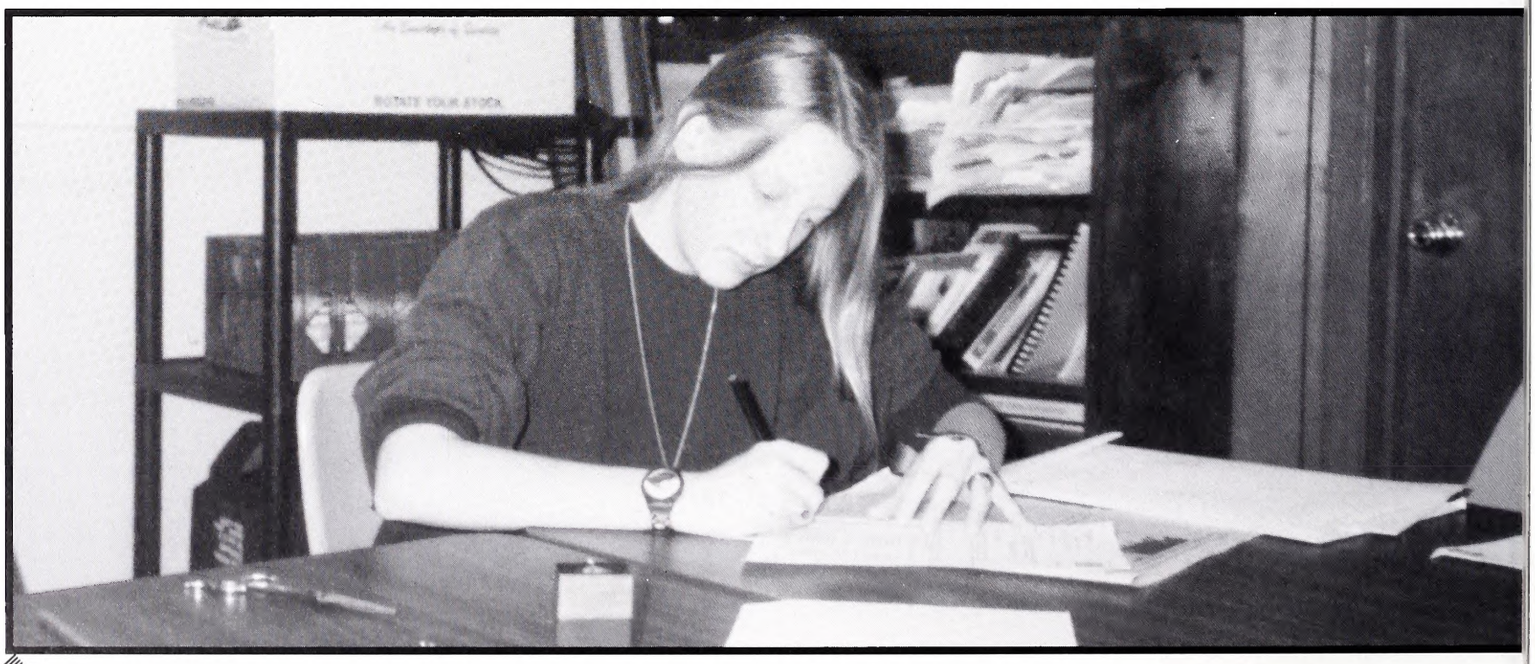
Members of SHARE were kept busy during and fall and spring semesters hosting various cultural, educational and social events, like the annual College Fair and Red Ribbon/Drug Awareness Day held during the month of October. They were also involved with recruiting local high school students.

N-Sight staffers, like Trillium staffers, were kept busy meeting ever-pressing deadlines. The school paper is distributed twice a semester.

And in the midst of all the hustle and bustle, a new club was organized — the Spanish club. Linda Flynn, oral communication and Spanish instructor, is advisor of this club. Club members were busy during the fall planning a summer trip to New Mexico.



Amy McKenzie and Erica Ellis greeted prospective students and their parents at the door and asked them to sign-in during the annual College Fair held in the month of October.



Tiffany Harvey, N-Sights editor, rushes to meet her deadline.

One of the colleges and universities represented at the College Fair was Louisiana Tech.

A Circle of Friends

Circle K, PTK, VICA

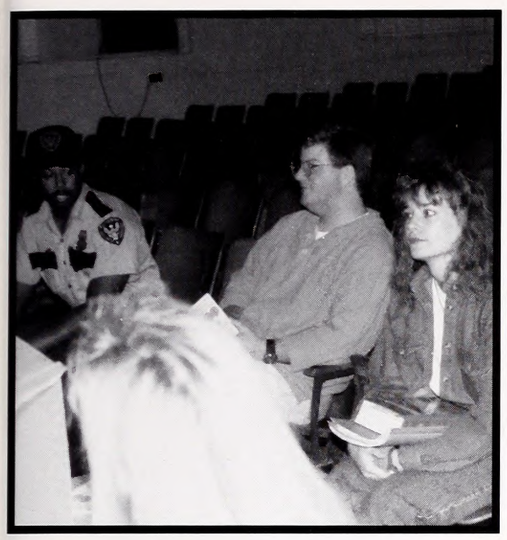
Circle K sponsored the annual blood drive held in October at the Washington site. According to advisor, John Bullen, "41 units of blood were collected, making the drive a very successful one."

In November PTK attended a regional conference held in Biloxi. The organization hosted a cultural event in the Spring. This organization is one of the largest on campus, totaling at least 40 members. Advisors are Kenneth Taylor, Joan McLemore, and Robert Smith.

VICA kept quite busy with many fund-raising activities during the school year. Two of these fund-raisers were a car wash held in September and a Halloween carnival held in October. Advisor to the club are Mike Pevey, David Davidson and Kathy Madden.

A staff member from the Mississippi Blood Services sneaks a quick drink while Dwayne Richardson steals the show. You've been there quite a while Dwayne, what's up?

Beau Britt smiled for the camera, while Melissa Sadler held up a card containing the number of her attorney — as soon as she could lift her arm ....



Too Late! Matthew Broughton, security officer at the Washington site, made sure that blood donors didn't back out at the last moment.

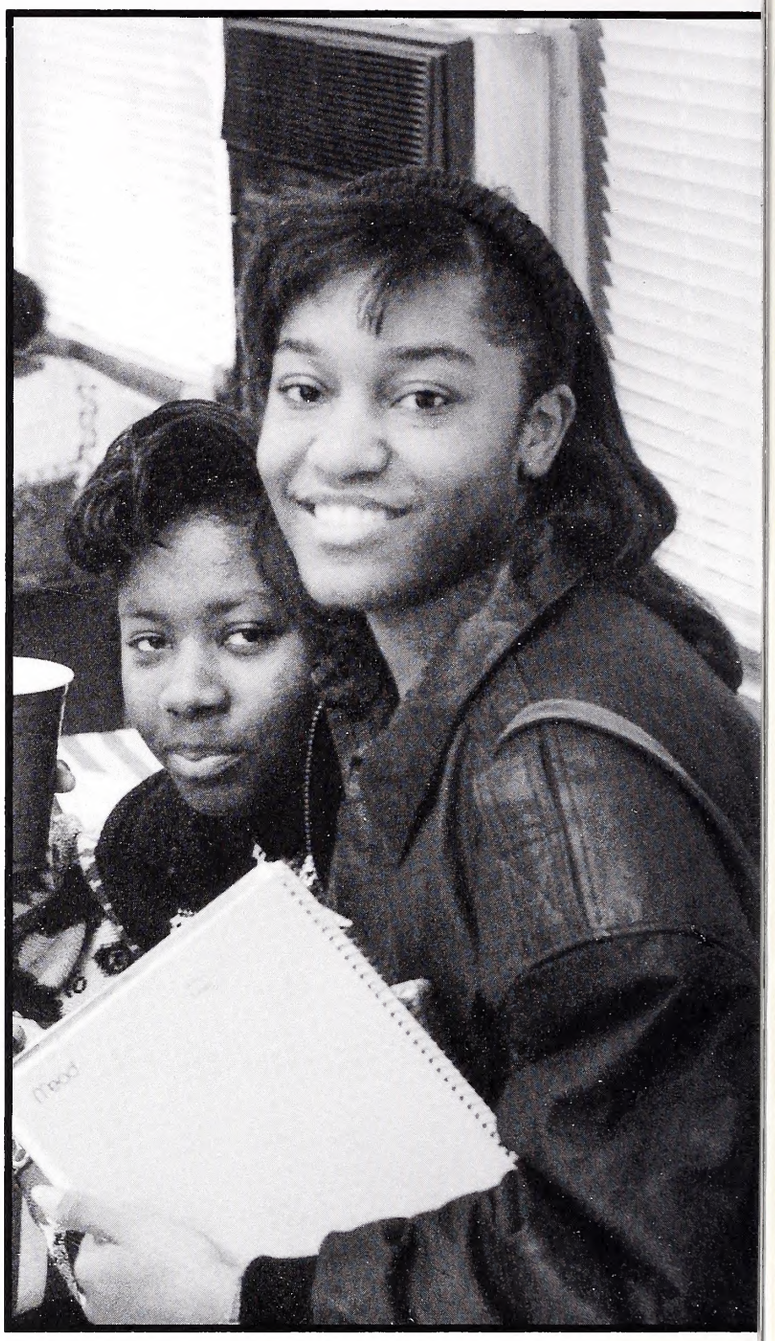
Taking Charge

SGA and DECA

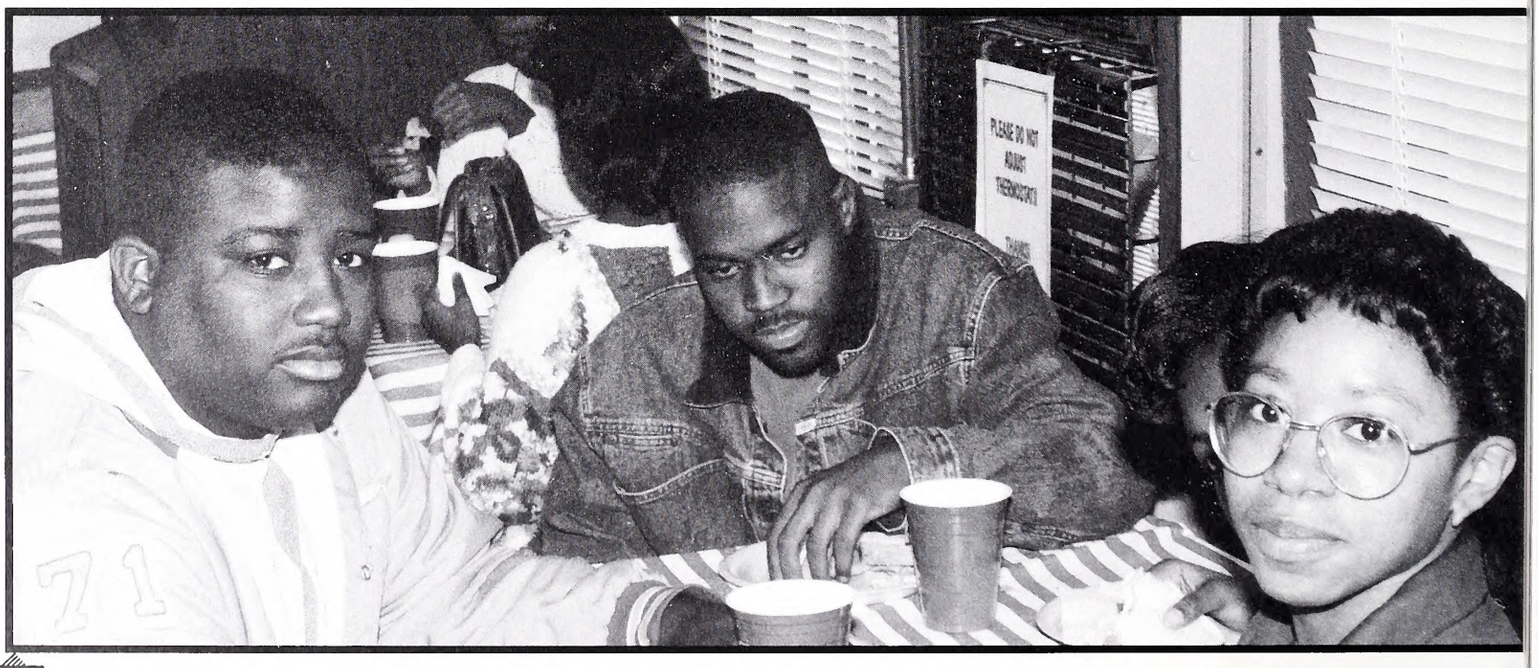
SGA serves not only the legislative body for the student population, but also acts as a liaison between students and faculty. The organization is involved in many campus and community events. For example in November, SGA celebrated the approval of Co-Lin's $4 million bond by throwing two ice-cream parties for the student body and in December, it sponsored two college-wide Christmas luncheons. SGA advisors are Judy Wiggins, Bettye Mullen, David Davidson and Linda Flynn.

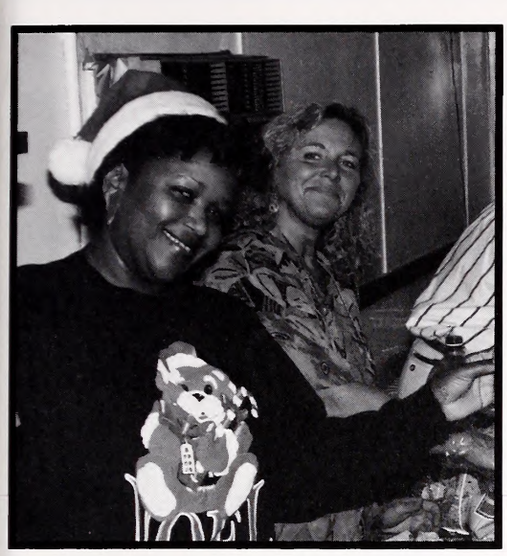
DECA traveled to Jackson to a Syco seminar and food show in October and in December sponsored a jambalaya dinner. DECA members are students enrolled in the Marketing Management Technology or Hotel-Restaurant Management programs. The organization "affords students the opportunity to meet persons enrolled in similar technical programs throughout the state and nation." Students have the opportunity to exchange ideas with other students and test their skills and knowledge against them in actual competition. Advisors are Jo Hinton and Becky Nevill.



Jermaine Washington, David Shaw, and Tammy Washington were caught enjoying a cup of Sprite and a cup of friendship at a SGA luncheon.

Sonya Harris and Erica Ellis said, "Cheers" to SGA!





SGA advisors, Bettye Mullen and Linda Flynn served food at the luncheon with Christmas cheer.

SGA members are (sitting) Erica Ellis, sophomore representative, Amy McKenzie, secretary-treasurer; Brad Taylor, vice-president; Beau Britt, president, (standing) Paul Addison; and advisors, Judy Wiggins, Linda Flynn, and Bettye Mullen.

Hotel-Restaurant Management students are Jill Nicholson, Mark Jackson and Debra Corley.

Marketing Management students are Tonya Galbreath and Charlotte Felter.

SGA president, Beau Britt, served Kevin Myles a taste of SGA's hospitality.

Trick or Treat without the Streets

PBL, DECA, HOSA, VICA

Four Co-Lin organizations hosted the first annual Halloween carnival in October at the vocational-technical building on Beltline.

PBL, DECA, HOSA, and VICA joined forces to give area kids and their parents lots of treats and lots of fun.

According to Kathy Madden, one of the advisors to VICA, the event was a "howling success". The event was so successful that each organization received $300.

Madden said that "there were so many people coming to the even that at one point, people were having to park in the Alcorn Nursing parking lot." She continued by saying that the carnival "was so successful, we plan to make this an annual event."

⬇Cindy Britt is a business technology major and president of Phi Beta Lambda.

Respiratory Therapy and Practical Nursing students belong to HOSA. ➡

JoAnn Hall, as you can see, wife of Mr. Co-Lin, Pat Hall, participated in the Halloween activities at Beltline.

"Fright Night" proved to be "Fun Night" for many trick or treaters at Beltline.

Kendall Shelley dressed as Barney's cousin and handed out treats to ghosts and goblins.

Administrators and Faculty

Mathematics and Science instructors are (l to r) Joey Paul, mathematics and computer science; John Bullen, biology and chemistry; Lynn Fink, biology and zoology; and Robert Smith, mathematics, computer science, and physical science.

Social Science instructors are (l to r) Kenneth Taylor, accounting, economics, and business law; Gerri Brown, psychology and sociology; and Jim Wiggins, history and geography.

Vocational-Technical instructors are (l to r) Richard Waltman, respiratory care technology; David Davidson, electronic/instrumentation technology; Robert Comer, vocational-technical related studies and coordinator of Special Interest Programs; Jo Hinton, marketing management technology; Sue Blackwell, practical nursing; Linda Davis, business technology; Becky Nevill, hotel-restaurant management technology; and Kathy Madden, food production management and services technology. Not pictured are Mariea Torrey, business technology, Sherry Lamond, practical nursing; Richard Newby, communication repairs and maintenance, Louis Selman, commercial truck driving; and Myra Washington, single parent/homemaker program.

Faculty and Staff

Secretaries and Support staff are (sitting, l to r) Rose Roberts, Dean's secretary; Pat Cater, faculty and Small Business Developoment Center secretary and Elderhostel administrative assistant; Gail McGruder, Student Center manager; (standing) Laura Winston, Student Support Services secretary; Carolyn Harper, finance secretary; Shirley Comegys, admissions secretary and bookstore clerk; and Virginia Thornton, library associate. Not pictured is Barbara Smith, library assistant.

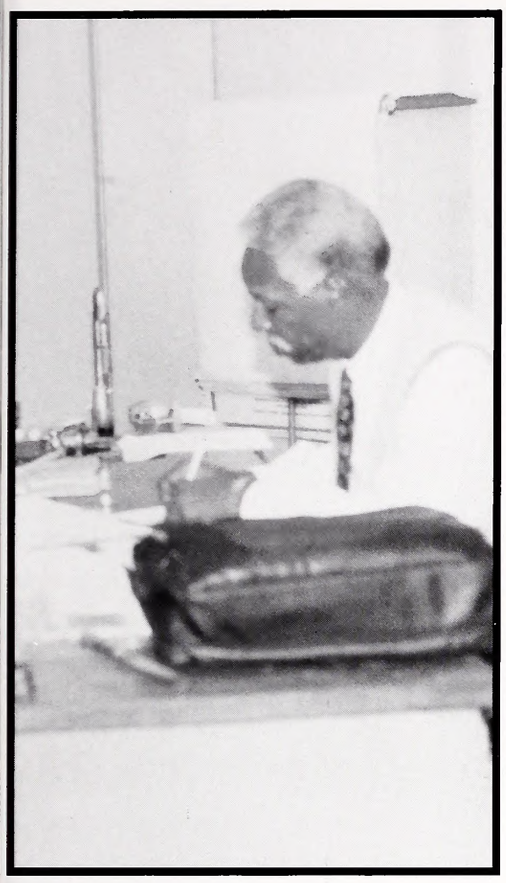
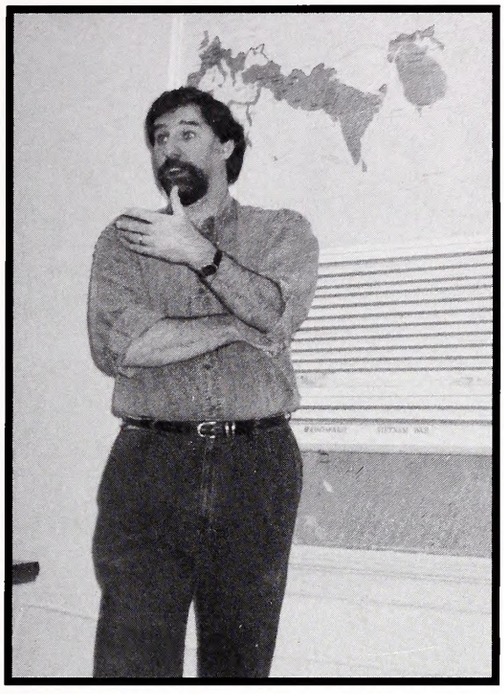
Hasa Luego, Bettye Mullen!





"Ulysess" Wiggins and his escape from the cyclopse.

Allen Oliver keeps our minds busy at night as he teaches biology.

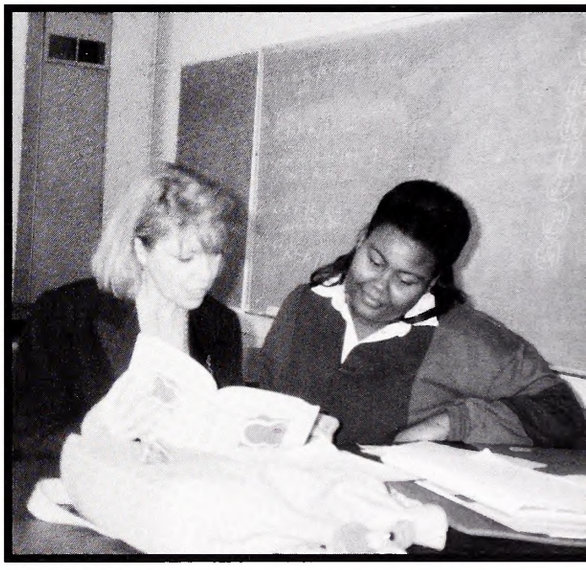
Shakespeare once penned, "parting is such sweet sorrow." We, the administrators, faculty, staff, and students at Co-Lin felt that way this fall as we prepared to say good-bye to Bettye Mullen.

Mullen served as Director of Student Support Services from January, 1987 to December, 1993. She and her dog, Charlie, moved to North Carolina in the spring.

We will all miss Mullen's friendly smile, her warm hellos, and her delicious sense of humor.

"Bettye has the ability to make you laugh, even though you may want to cry. I'm going to miss my friend," said Gerri Brown. She continued, "I once read a line from Mother Goose that said, 'when you leave them, leave them laughing'. Bettye left us with a smile in our hearts from having known her.

We wish Mullen and Charlie well as they embark on their new journey. We, however, will not say good-bye; we will just say 'hasta luego'.

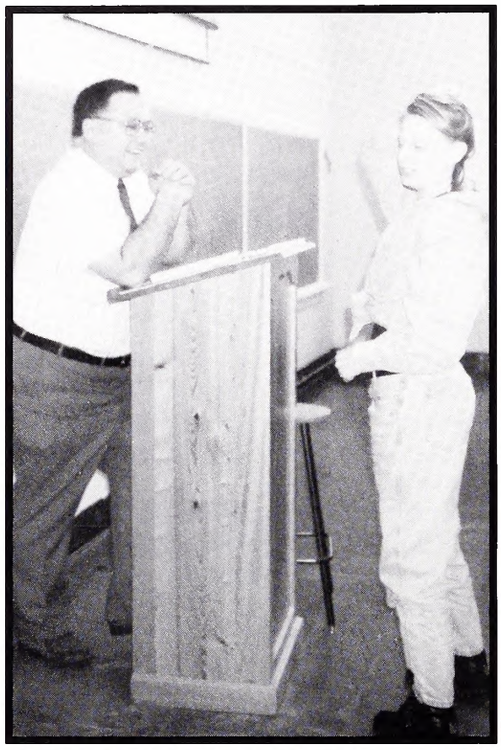


Judy Wiggins teaches Kimberely Piper the "do's and don'ts" of English. (Did we say that right?)

Bettye Mullen has served as Director of Student Support Services for seven years.

Louise Watkins, Cissy Wisner, Robert Comer, with "birthday lady" Sue Savino, Maria Torey, Diana Martello and Ed Carey enjoyed a delicious Black Forest cake.

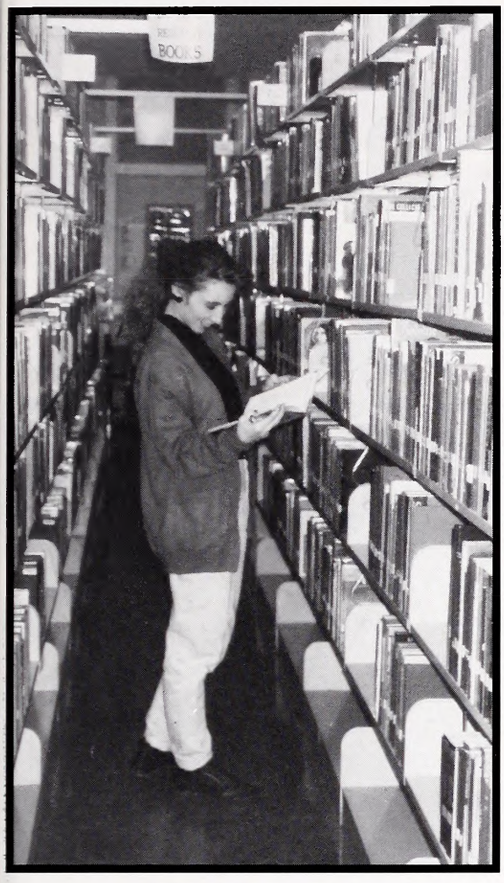
Robert Smith and N-Sights editor, Tiffany Harvey, were caught sharing secrets to story writing on the computer.

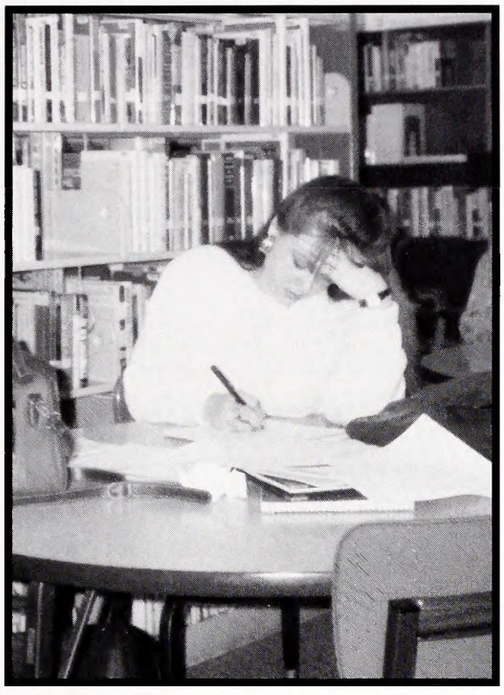


At work with no play didn't appear to get Vanessa Alexander down. She seemed to have kept a smile on her face each day at work.

Pinkey Stewart is one of the happy faces that greets you in the Learning Center each day.

Yearning to Learn





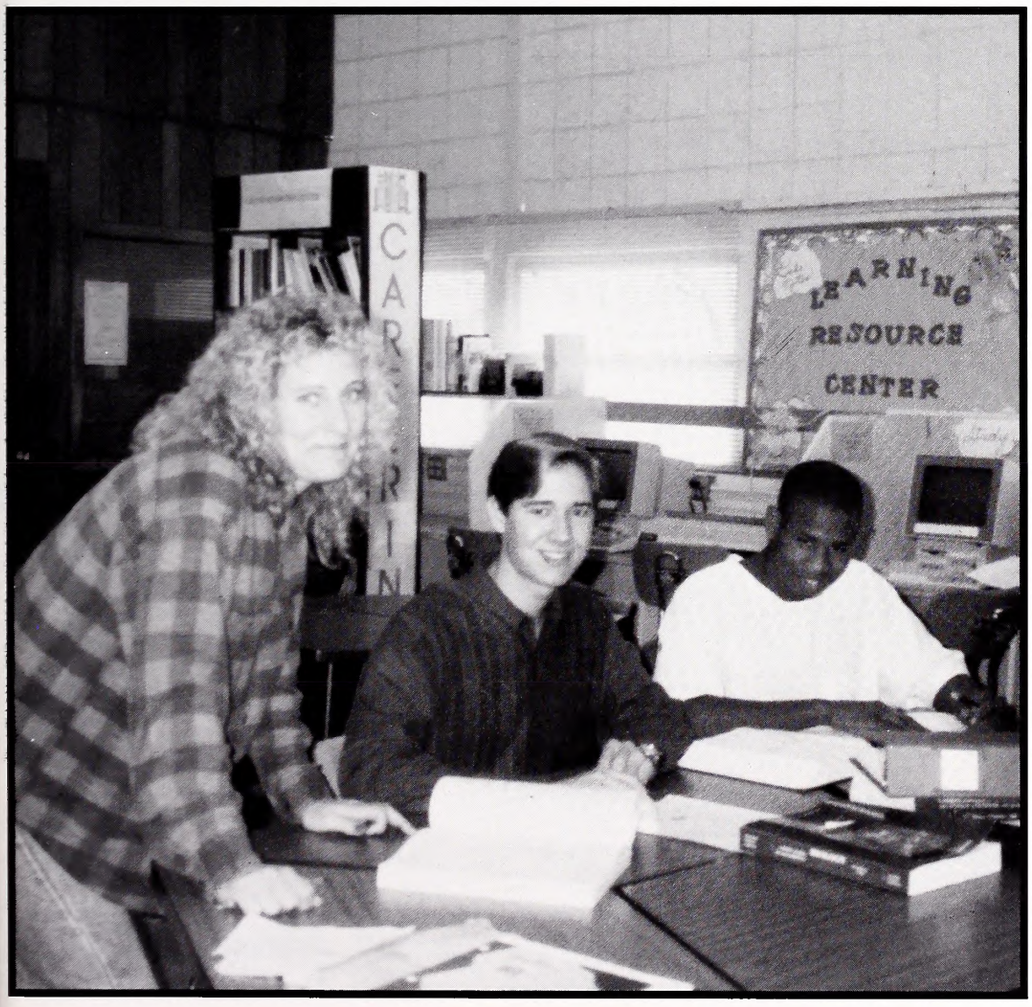
We spied on Christen Huey doing undercover work in the library.

We found Teresa Booker in the library hard at work cramming for her next exam.

All of us have journeyed to this place of knowledge to learn. Our thirst for knowledge grows with every waking minute. And we have learned that all roads to knowledge eventually lead to the library or the Learning Center.

The library offers the wealth of information we need to write our research papers or investigate certain topics. It also provides the computes on which we can type these papers. It is a haven, a place where we can go to study or relax and even learn while we play a game of Scrabble or Jeopardy on the computer. The Learning Center is our back-up, there to provide us with tutors when we need that "little extra help".

We realize that acquiring a good education requires many hours of hard work and so we study in stride. And though each of us have different goals and destinations in life, we've all come to the place, because we all are yearning to learn.



Aaron Bryant and Linda Flynn we caught exploring new worlds and cultures.

Don't let the smiles fool you. Vicki Elliott, Matt Verucchi, and Patrick Henderson were really found to be hard at work.

A BREATHTAKING EXPERIENCE

Kathy Madden, along with her children, Cain and Claudia, and her brother, Don Cavin, participated in the 1993 Great Mississippi River Balloon Race held in Natchez in October. Don piloted the C-3, one of the four balloons sponsored by Ed Herring, a long-time supporter of Co-Lin.

This was Kathy's first year to go up in a balloon and she found the experience to be breathtaking and peaceful. She said, "There is nothing like floating high above the ground, overlooking the beauty of Natchez."

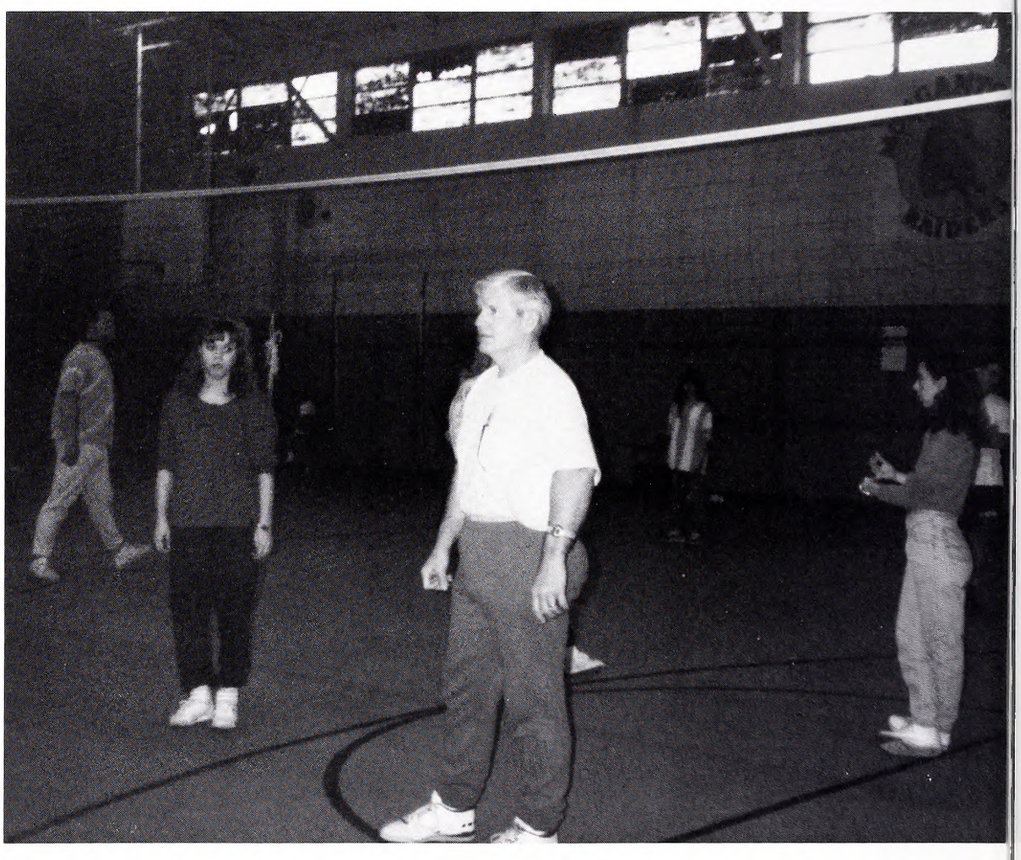
LET'S EXERCISE



Because Co-Lin/Natchez has limited facilities, its PE classes are held off campus in the Morgantown Elementary School Gym on Wednesday evening at 5:00 p.m. and then again at 6:00 p.m.

For six weeks students are taught the art of bowling and for the remaining six to twelve weeks, they either practice their volleyball, basketball, and/or walking skills.

Approximately 70 students are enrolled in this class, which is taught by part-time instructor, Buddy Wade. Wade is Assistant Principal of Natchez High.

GIVE PATRICK A TRY

"When you think of Patrick, you think of him as God's gift to students struggling with algebra. He makes it seem so easy," declared Georganna Berry. Georganna, like many students, is singing the praise of Patrick Henderson.

Patrick is a 19 year old freshman, majoring in mechanical engineering. He works in the Learning Center (LC) as a tutor for students having difficulty with algebra, calculus or chemistry.

Patrick can be found in the LC on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday. So if you are having a hard time in class, drop by the LC and give Patrick a try.

WORKING OFF CAMPUS

Amy Smith is a 19 year old college freshman, who like many students at Co-Lin/Natchez, works off campus. Amy works at the Hansel and Gretel Day Care Center in Natchez with the two-year-old age group. "I have worked here for nearly two years and I love my job," she said. When asked how does she find time to study with such a demanding schedule, she smiled and replied, "Because it is often difficult to study in between my job and classes, I do most of my studying on weekends."

Many students like Amy work off campus to pay for their tuition and/or just to have extra spending money.

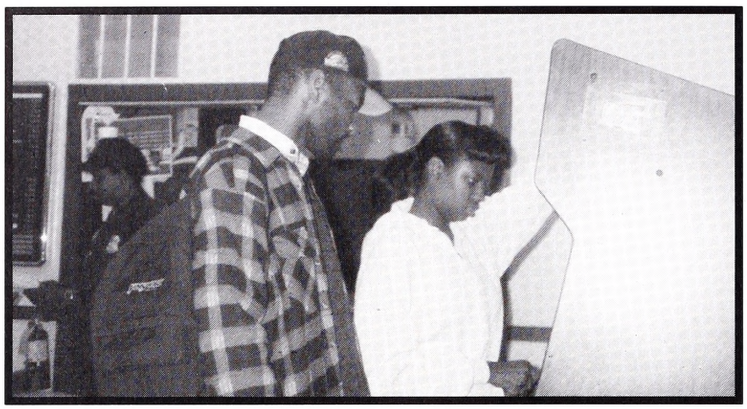
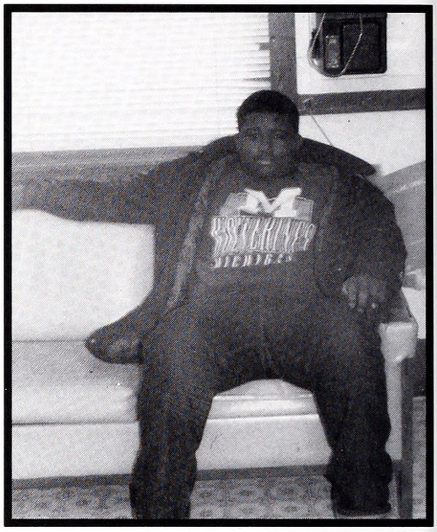
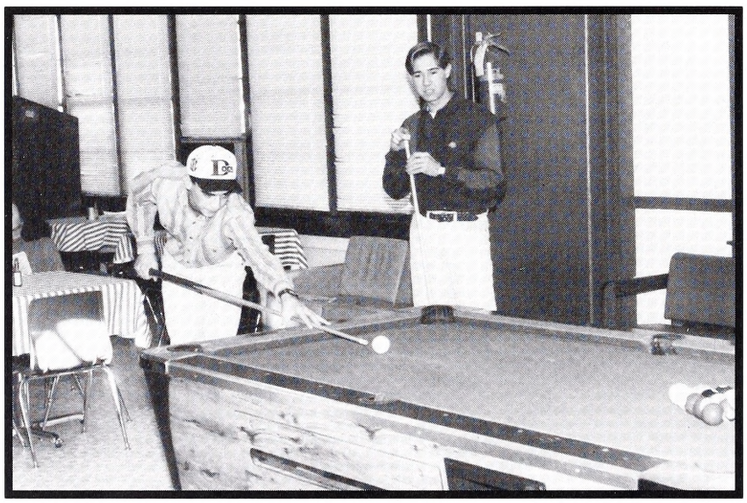
FRIENDSHIPS CREATE MEMORIES ....

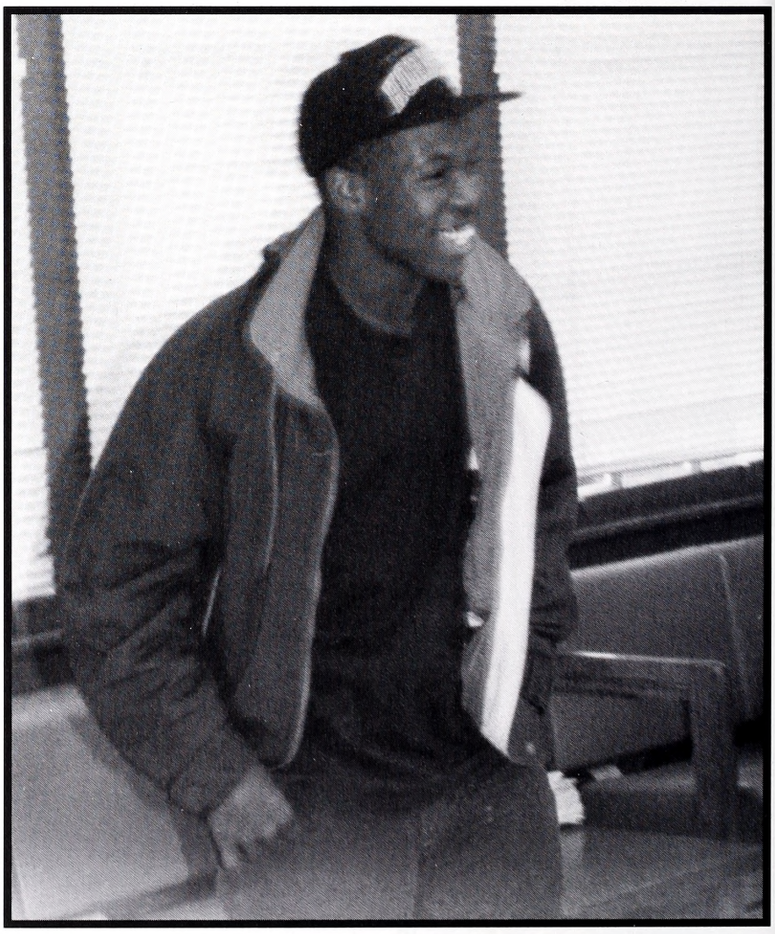
THAT LAST A LIFETIME

Faces seen most often ...









The Hob Nob and the Vo-tech's Breakroom are the places students go to relax, play games, eat, and even cram in some last minute school work.

They are places for everyone, even faculty, who you seen enjoying their favorite "soaps", while eating their lunch.

Without the Hob Nob and the Breakroom, Co-Lin would be All work and No play. We can't have that, can we?

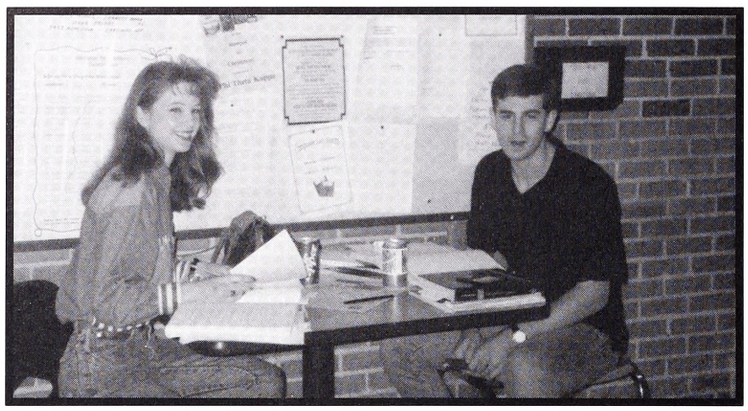
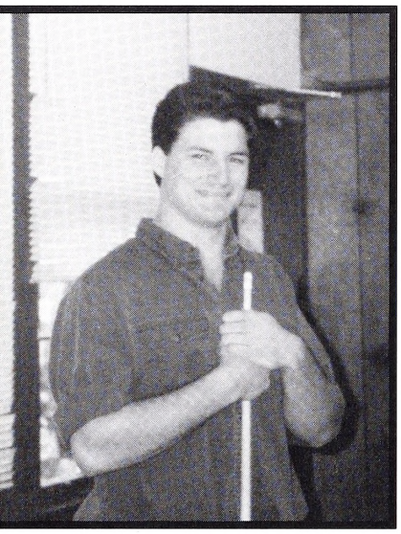
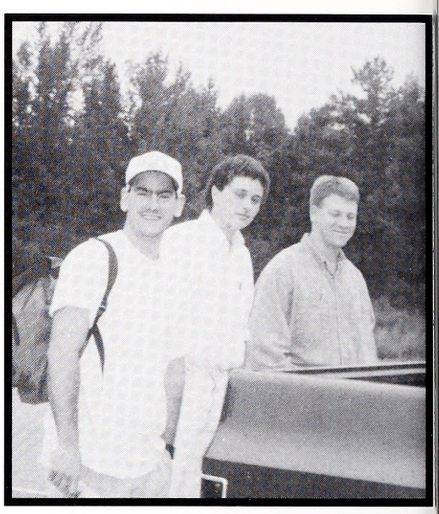
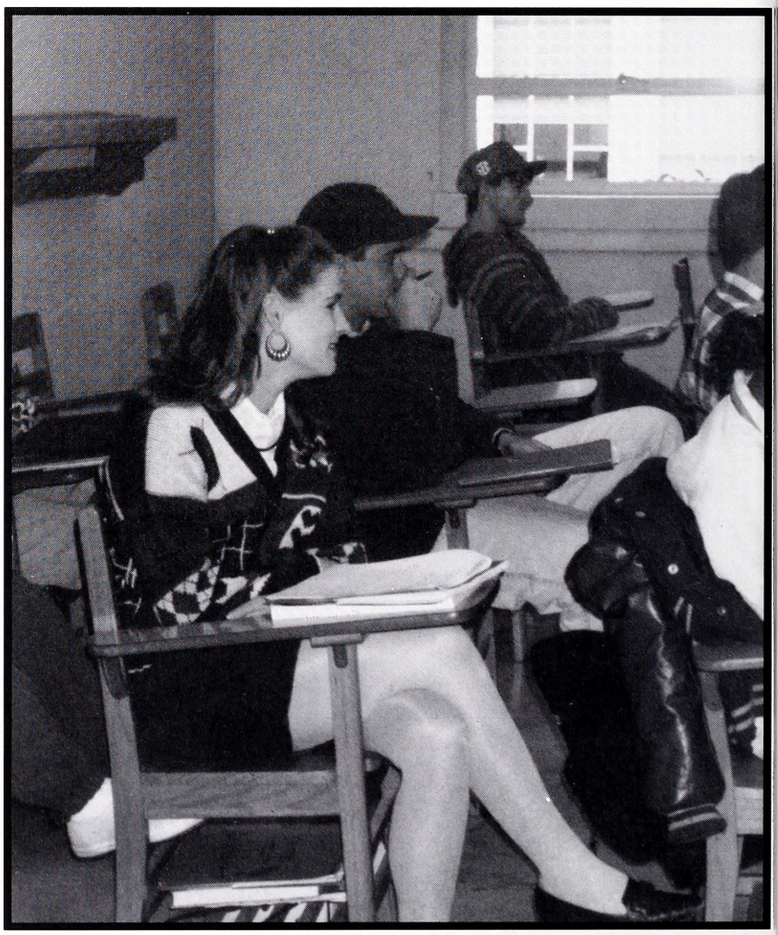
ONE LAST LOOK









Friendships are like treasure,
For these moments of school,
Are often too short to measure.
Years go by like days,
And hours seem like minutes.
To memories that sometimes fade.
But you can capture a friendly smile,
That is as precious as a diamond,
For photographs are the key to our file.

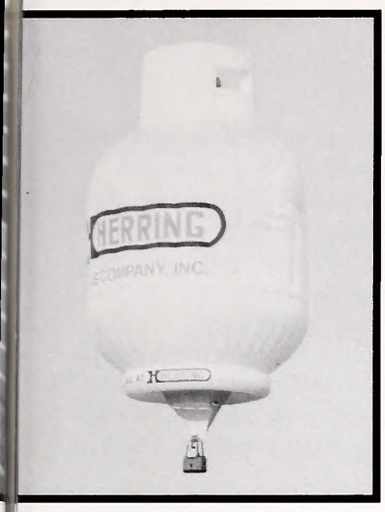
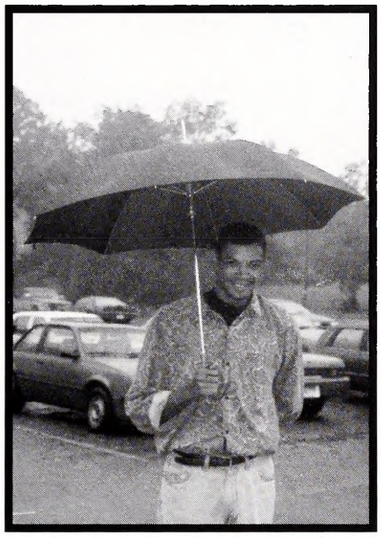
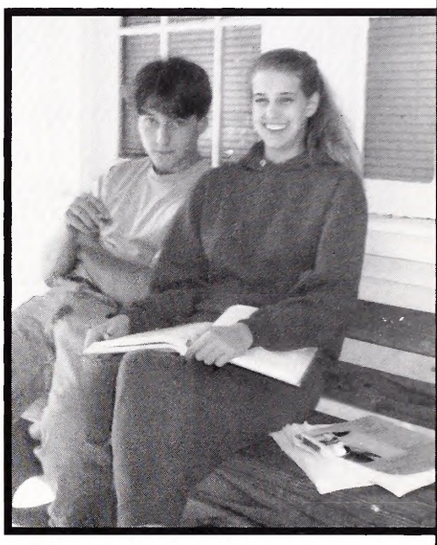
Tammy Wroten

OF THE WAY WE WERE IN ...







1993 and 1994

This was the year of Girbaud clothes, Looney Tunes T-shirts and accessories, Nike and Fila tennis shoes, the beginning preparations for a "much-needed, long overdue academic facility", hot air balloon races, purple painted automobiles, Lady Luck, and the beautiful 1993 Nissan Altima!

This was also the year that we said good-bye to David Wayne Shaw, Jr. David died December 10.

All of these things combined are one last look at the year we will always remember.

The Natchez Trillium Gang

Danielle Terrell was concerned about the upcoming deadline, but editor, Tammy Wroten smiled and said, "We have it under control."

Photographer, Eric Glidden and staffer, Shonda Eames, put their head together as they try to think of witty things to say for picture captions.

As editor of the Trillium, I have experienced a lot of things I would not have otherwise.

The students here at Co-Lin are some of the most motivated and exciting people I have ever met. The teachers are very friendly, which makes it easier to learn. Everyone seems to be one BIG happy family.

I've enjoyed getting to know these people while working on, what I hope to be the BEST annual ever. It is filled with beautiful memories of friendships, student activities, and a lot of hard study hours.

I want to thank you for making my days at Co-Lin the best! I hope that you enjoy what my colleagues and I have put together as much as we enjoyed putting it together.

Those ever pressing deadlines kept the Trillium staff and advisor, Gerri Brown, busy during the fall and part of the spring semesters.
